FIVE POWERS MAY HANDLE WAR THREAT

Council of League May Be Replaced by Committee on China Crisis

UNITED STATES MAY TAKE ACTIVE PART

By JOHN GUNTHER

(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—The sensational step is contemplated of dissolving the council of the League of Nations and replacing it with a committee of the Five Great Powers, including the United States, it is said today, as an attempt to settle the Manchurian crisis.

The council at present is crippled because the United States is not a member, although the United States is closely involved. Washington is being sounded out to see if we will consent to become a member of the League Council, as once happened in the case of Liberia. The committee would meet after the present session of the League Council is over, possibly in Paris.

SITUATION IS URGENT

Urgent steps were necessary to prevent actual war in Manchuria between Japan and China. The league received information today alleging that a division of Japanese troops had left Korea for Manchuria, with a new division ready. The Chinese say that the situation is worse than it was yesterday. Wild talk is heard of a Japanese-Russian "plot" to divide Manchuria.

The league is presented with a formidable crisis. The Japanese refuse to be budged and the Japanese delegate, Kenkichi Yoshizawa, succeeded in deferring any action on the league's appeal by asserting that he could do nothing without further instructions.

POSITION IS DIFFICULT

The league's position is extremely difficult with Japan politely, but relentlessly refusing to withdraw one inch from its position. Japan is taking on itself the onus of refusing an appeal made in behalf of virtually all the nations of the world.

China still hopes that direct negotiations will succeed or that the league's telegram last night urging the Japanese to withdraw will finally be heeded.

Dry Law Repeal Would Give Work

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Charles J. Chase, of Cincinnati, fraternal delegate from the American Federation of Labor, addressing the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress today suggested that abolition of prohibition laws in the United States would greatly alleviate unemployment distress in that country.

"Bring back the whisky, beer, wine and other drinks, and work will be provided for hundreds of thousands," he said.

Churchill Will Have Winter Train Service

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 23 (CP).—Churchill this year will be linked with the outside world by train service throughout the Winter. Once a week over the frozen tundra that stretches along the 500-mile Bay line from here to the new Bay port engines will plow through the snow to carry mail and supplies to the citizens.

ABOARD SS. STAVANGERFJORD, Sept. 23 (By Radio).—I shall tell here, with what ability I have, of the adventures and the misfortunes of my two comrades and myself in our attempt to fly, nonstop, from Portugal to New York.

My companions on this flight, in case you do not know their names, were my fellow-German, Christian Johanssen, and Fernando da Costa Viega, a Portuguese. Our plane was a Junkers W33, with an L5 motor, six-cylindered.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN

Finally, about 9 a.m., Sunday the thirteenth, everything was really ready, at last. We measured off the runway once more in an automobile, placing small flags at intervals. Then we warmed up the motor while Costa Viega's friends bade him farewell and pressed good luck charms upon him.

LIMITED FOOD

We took aboard a few remaining trifles. We were carrying sufficient fuel for forty-eight hours and provisions for two days. We throttled down our motor. The moment had come. Mechanics released the blocks from our landing wheels. After a run of 2,460 feet we were up. It was then 9:30 a.m. Remember the day, Sunday, September 13.

Hardly had we passed the Azores when the weather changed. It grew bad. The barometer fell and a strong head wind arose. It grew colder, and at nightfall heavy cloud banks piled up before us. Rain began, and we decided to climb.

BATTERED BY WIND

Whirlwinds rocked us back and forth. They tossed us and battered us so that we could not keep a straight course. Again and again we were hammered about in a circle. It was with great difficulty that we kept any altitude.

Now it had become completely dark. The night was black. The violence of the storm increased. In some way we had to gain greater altitude. We knew that we must rise to nearly 10,000 feet if we were to hold our course.

We gave our engine full throttle, and finally we struggled above the clouds. There was so much electricity in the atmosphere as we fought our way up through these tumbling cloud masses that the propeller and the tips of the wings were flashing with it. That was a wonder of nature such as we never had seen before. It awed us.

As soon as we got above the heavy cloud banks the air became calm. Stars shone through flying wisps of cloud.

INDICATOR FROZE

For two hours now everything had gone well, aside from that drop in temperature. Then, suddenly our air speed indicator fell back. What could have happened? The windows had become glazed with a thin skin of ice, and we knew that the speed indicator must be in like condition.

EXCHANGE AT LONDON OPEN

Stock Brokers in Happy Mood as Prices Move Upward

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—Swarms of stockbrokers, laughing and cheering like schoolboys, invaded the Stock Exchange today for the resumption of trading after the two-day compulsory close-down—and their buoyancy was reflected in the prices of many securities.

Industrials showed considerable strength, due mainly to covering by bears and adjustments to the new off-gold-standard sterling quotations. French bonds were good, and German bonds showed a sharp advance.

100 PER CENT DIVIDEND

Dealers said at the end of the day that the reopening had gone off very nicely, and they were able to enjoy news that the Austin Motor Company had been so successful during the last year that the directors were recommending a 100 per cent dividend on ordinary shares.

The new spirit was apparent at the opening of the session as smiling brokers, many of them dressed as usual in toppers and morning coats, jammed the exchange.

PROGRESS MADE ON B.C. PLANS

Increased Aid for Municipalities Seen as Outcome of Negotiations

Much encouraged as a result of the conference with Senator Robertson on the Mainland, several members of the Provincial Government returned to the city yesterday, pleased with the course of negotiations and warm in their commendation of the attitude of the Federal Minister of Labor in expediting a settlement on provincial plans.

Important results of the conference included intimation that the Dominion Government will bear half the cost of approved undertakings in British Columbia municipalities, including labor and materials. To this the Province will add one quarter of the labor cost of the works involved, as the basis of its settlement with the municipalities.

SUGGEST FINANCE PLAN

Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, commended the manner in which Senator Robertson had approached the discussions, and said material progress had been made towards settlement of the provincial programme, which, it is expected, will be executed by agreement with Federal authorities this week. British Columbia, intimated Mr. Jones, has suggested a system of monthly advances from Ottawa, to finance municipal programmes when approved.

ONTARIO PREPARED TO HANDLE MANY CATTLE

REGINA, Sept. 23 (CP).—Ontario is prepared to handle another 100,000 feeder cattle from Western Canada, fatten them and sell them on the British market at a premium, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, stated in an interview here.

Ontario has already handled 25,000 head of the livestock. Arrangements had been made for lower freight rates from Ontario to seaboard; also special rates on sea bottoms for fatted cattle.

B.C. Trustees Protest Poor Representation On Salary Committee

Resolution Opposes Legalized Sick Leave for Teachers, Claiming Present System Is Seriously Abused—Convention Is Concluded

CHILLIWACK, Sept. 23 (CP).—Strong opposition was expressed at the final session of the twenty-seventh annual convention of British Columbia school trustees today at what was termed a one-sided arrangement in the composition of the commission to be appointed by the Minister of Education to fix a salary schedule for school teachers.

The proposed commission will consist of nine teachers, three trustees, three business men to be named by the minister, three municipal councillors or aldermen, and a judge to act as chairman.

IS FURTHER PROTEST

By a former resolution, unanimously passed on Tuesday, the convention went on record as unalterably opposed to municipal councillors being included in any commission which met to discuss or fix teachers' salaries, and today's resolution entered a further protest against the poor representation of trustees on the proposed commission.

Greater benefits and the advantages of vocational training for upcountry pupils were approved by a resolution submitted by the Merritt School Board.

A resolution from North Vancouver district and Burnaby recommending the Government to amend the School Act in such a way to provide more teachers in elementary schools was passed unanimously.

C. M. Harper, of Burnaby, was chief spokesman for a resolution

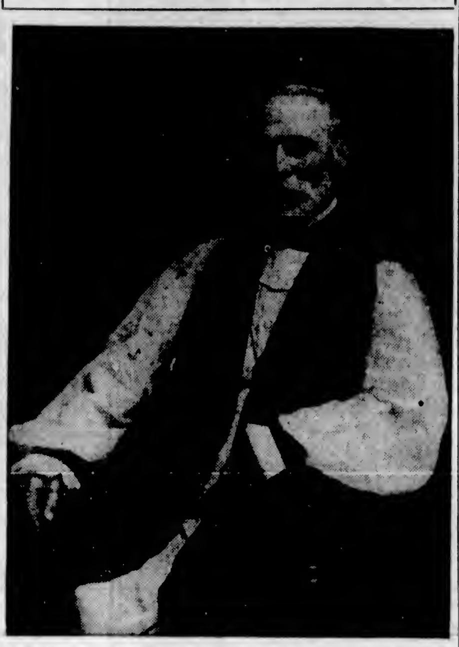
BANK OF ENGLAND HEAD AT LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP).—Careful preparations were made by Rt. Hon. Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, to avoid interviews with newspapermen both at Liverpool and London as he returned today after a five weeks' visit in Canada for the benefit of his health.

Mr. Norman was taken off the Duchess of Bedford in midstream at Liverpool by the customs tender and brought speedily to the quay. There a motorcar was waiting to whisk him to Lime Street Station. In the station he walked rapidly along the platform and entered the London Express.

When he stepped down from the express in London early this afternoon, he was surrounded by policemen who escorted him to a waiting motorcar which drove him away.

New Primate of Canada



MOST Reverend Clarence Lamb Worrell, of Halifax, Archbishop of Nova Scotia, was chosen Primate of Canada for the Church of England yesterday by the unanimous vote of the House of Bishops. He succeeds Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, who retired last year.

To Offer Lands Along P.G.E. to Workers on Road

Government Plans Land Settlement Scheme If Ottawa Approves Project of Building Railroad to Finlay Forks From Quesnel—Would Aid in Developing Business

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—To make the vast fertile areas which border the line of the proposed extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway available for settlement, the Provincial Government is planning to give the workers on the line scrip to adjoining lands with title completed after two years' continuous occupancy.

It is learned from sources near to the Government that thousands of young men may be placed on arable land through the scheme when the work of construction to Finlay Forks is finished.

PLAN ENDORSED

Submitted to Senator Gideon Robertson, Federal Minister of Labor, the plan received his full endorsation and it is understood to have made a strong impression at Ottawa.

Brought to fruition, the scheme will bring into production thousands of acres of fertile land, well watered and favored by a climate suited to raising mixed crops and breeding stock.

Opening the country adjacent to the railway is planned as soon as steel is laid, thereby absorbing a large number of young men now unemployed and facing a future without immediate hope of betterment.

DIRECT OUTLET

A strong delegation from British Columbia is now at Ottawa pressing on the Federal Government the desirability of pushing through the scheme without delay to serve the double purpose of giving immediate employment to thousands and also providing a direct rail outlet from the Peace River area.

Not more than 262 miles of railroad needs to be built to complete the existing line from Quesnel to Finlay Forks in the Peace River district, eighty-three miles from Quesnel to Prince George and 180 miles from Prince George to Finlay Forks. It is understood from the reports of reliable engineers that an almost perfect water grade can be obtained, running about one-half of one per cent from Prince George north.

Cost of the work is estimated at the low figure of $35,000 per mile, or $9,170,000 for the whole undertaking.

Limitation of Ships Parley Is Deadlocked

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER

PARIS, Sept. 23.—I learn that the Franco-Italian naval negotiations, which a few days ago were inspiring much optimism, are again deadlocked.

The British expert, Robert L. Craigie, after examining the latest French proposals, is declared to have supported the Italian expert in finding them entirely unacceptable. The French experts, on their part, have refused for the time being to return to the bases of the abortive agreement of last Spring, which would be acceptable to Italy and Great Britain.

It is believed, further, that the Italian proposal to the Assembly of the League of Nations for a year's holiday in all armaments has hampered a Franco-Italian understanding.

COMMITTEEMEN ARE SELECTED

Mayor Anscomb to Serve as Union Delegate on Teachers' Salary Group

Three representatives have been named by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to act on the teachers' salary committee now being organized at the suggestion of the Government, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe announced yesterday. These are Mayor Herbert Anscomb, of this city; Councillor Lambert, of Burnaby, and City Clerk Gordon, of Revelstoke.

The British Columbia School Trustees' Association will choose three delegates; three others, to be drawn from business circles, will be named by the Government, while the remaining nine delegates will be selected by the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. The committee will get down to work shortly, and will have a member of the British Columbia judiciary as chairman.

Mr. Hinchliffe said he had noted the suggestion made at the trustees' convention that city councils should not be represented on the committee, but would adhere to his original plans. Councils, as representatives of a large body of taxpayers, were fully entitled to voice on the group, he affirmed.

TO REORGANIZE BOOKS BRANCH

P. G. Barr Will Take Charge of Textbook Bureau, in Readjustment

Reorganization of the textbook branch of the Department of Education was announced yesterday by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, who said the changes would go into effect next month. Readjustment of personnel will take place in some instances, it was intimated.

P. G. Barr, secretary to the minister, will be placed in charge of the textbook bureau, taking the place of J. A. Anderson, who will be transferred, Mr. Hinchliffe stated. Miss B. G. Thomas, assistant secretary, will be promoted to the position of secretary to the minister. Mr. Barr has been assisting in the work of the textbook bureau for some time.

Growth of the work of the textbook branch has made reorganization necessary, and the readjustment of personnel outlined will take effect at the end of next month, Mr. Hinchliffe stated.

Conservatives of Victoria Arrange Rally for Oct. 1

ARRANGEMENTS for the annual meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on October 1 at 8 p.m., were announced yesterday by officials of the organization. A fine programme has been arranged for the occasion, the guest speakers to include Premier S. F. Tolmie and Victoria's Federal and Provincial members. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., will make his first public address since his recent return from Ottawa. The four Victoria members in the Provincial Legislature, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe; Reginald Hayward, M.P.P.; James H. Beatty, M.P.P.; and H. D. Twigg, Deputy Speaker, have promised to be present. R. A. Wootton will preside.

HALIFAX MAN NEW PRIMATE

Most Rev. C. L. Worrall Chosen Head of Anglicans in Canada

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—Receiving the unanimous vote of the House of Bishops, Most Rev. Clarence Lamb Worrell, of Halifax, Archbishop of Nova Scotia, was today chosen Primate of Canada for the Church of England. He succeeds Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, of Winnipeg, former Archbishop of Rupert's Land, who retired from office last year.

The election of Archbishop Worrell by the House of Bishops followed the failure of the Lower House of the General Synod to reach unanimous decision on a canon which would make the House of Bishops the nominating body and the Lower House the electing body in the selection of a Primate. The canon drew in the Lower House a favorable two-thirds majority, which meant it cannot become church law unless it is confirmed by the next General Synod, meeting three years hence.

FAILED TO REACH DECISION

The Lower House passed a motion asking the House of Bishops to proceed with the election of a Primate, after failing to come to a unanimous decision on the question of the new canon. The Primate was chosen on the basis of the old constitution, still in force, from among the four archbishops of the church.

Most Rev. A. U. DePencier, Archbishop of New Westminster and Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of British Columbia, announced a service of institution of the new Primate would be held tomorrow in St. Paul's Church, where the General Synod sessions are being held.

SIX CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

Three Others Escape as Fire Sweeps Farmhouse in Saskatchewan

HAGUE, Sask., Sept. 23 (CP).—Six fire-blackened little bodies lay tonight in six pure white coffins in a farmhouse near here. Victims of flames that swept through the home of John P. Unruh, while he and his wife were visiting a neighbor-cousin last night, the children died in the fire-swept house as two brothers and a sister escaped from an upstairs window.

Sixteen-year-old John, oldest of the nine children asleep in the house, discovered the fire first. He opened a door of his bedroom leading into the hall and found rushing flames blocking any exit through the house. He called the other children and then leaped to safety through the window of his room.

WERE HUDDLED TOGETHER

Tetarine and Peter followed, but behind remained six to die. The charred body of Cornby, ten months old, was found in his crib. Four of the children huddled together as the flames surrounded them and died almost in each other's arms. Tetarine and Peter were badly burned, only John escaping without injury.

When neighbors arrived at the scene the house was burned almost to the ground.

Australian Flyer Seeks New Record

WYNDHAM, West Australia, Sept. 24 (AP).—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith took off at 2 a.m. today in an attempt to beat the record of J. A. Mollison for a flight from Australia to London.

Mollison's record is eight days, thirteen hours and thirty-five minutes. Kingsford-Smith said he hoped to make it in seven days.

BRITISH ELECTION FORECAST WITH NATIONAL GOVERNMENT SUPPORTING TARIFF POLICY

Parliamentary Corridors Buzzing With Campaign Discussions — Dissolution Predicted Within Fortnight and Voting Before End of October—MacDonald to Lead Coalition Forces

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP).—Prorogation of Parliament on October 5 or 6; dissolution the same night, and a short and swift campaign by the National Government under leadership of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, leading to a general election before the end of October—this was the talk among Conservative "back benchers" at Westminster tonight.

Debates in the House of Commons have yielded pride of place to party meetings in the committee rooms; to negotiations and discussions behind the scenes. The House spent another day today on the National Government's emergency taxation proposals. But the benches were almost deserted compared with the throngs of the past few days.

TARIFFS ISSUE

The Conservative private members discussed possible swift developments resulting in a campaign by the National Government on a programme of national reconstruction which would include tariffs. The new Parliament would be summoned as speedily as possible after election day; a vote of confidence would be sought immediately. So ran the Conservative discussions.

The Conservatives predict the National Government, with such a programme, would have an easy victory. One such estimate went so far as to give the National Government 400 out of the 615 seats in the House of Commons.

LIBERALS WARNED

Perturbed over the outlook, the Liberal free traders attack the scheme. In black headlines on its front page tonight the Liberal Evening Star calls it a "Tory Election Intrigue . . . Plot to Snatch Party Triumph From Crisis." Part of the scheme, The Star charges, is to "Depose Sir Herbert Samuel (Liberal Free Trader and Home Secretary) and substitute Sir John Simon (Liberal, who has declared in favor of tariffs).

Reports are current, too—although they are denied—that all is not well with Labor. The Labor left wingers are said to be pressing for more active battling by their front benchers against the Government programme. Labor, too, is preparing for an election.

CAPITAL FLOWS INTO FRANCE

By A. R. DECKER

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Paris and New York now are refuges for capital. Switzerland is refusing deposits and Holland is busy accumulating gold to maintain its own liquidity. Other countries are sending funds to France so rapidly that France has risen on the international market, and gold is reported to be coming from New York.

The British are the biggest senders of capital to Paris, and the flight from the pound sterling seems to be assuming large proportions. The flight is being carried out by means of selling securities and by leaving abroad balances from the sales of merchandise. The Scandinavian and Central European countries are likewise sending funds to Paris.

COMMEND DEBT SUSPENSION

DETROIT, Sept. 23 (AP).—The American Legion today commended the Hoover war debt moratorium and urged Congress to act upon the debt holiday promptly.

Baychimo Again Held In Ice Floe

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Sept. 23 (AP).—An enforced Winter in the Arctic ice pack today faced the Hudson's Bay Company trading steamer Baychimo, held in the ice forty miles south of here, a message from the vessel said.

Leaving Point Barrow yesterday after being endangered for several days by the ice, the steamer proceded south only ten miles before newly frozen four-inch ice was met.

A stiff fight through this ice delayed the vessel, the message said, and within a short time the wind changed to the southwest, bringing the large pack ice in to shore.

New Era of Science Predicted by Noted Scholar at London

General Jan C. Smuts Tells British Association Materialism Will Be Scrapped — Is Given Tremendous Ovation by Great Gathering

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP).—A tremendous ovation was accorded General the Rt. Hon. Jan C. Smuts as he entered the Central Hall at Westminster tonight to deliver his presidential address, opening the centenary meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

General Smuts, distinguished South African soldier, statesman and scholar, was accompanied by several renowned past presidents.

The hall was filled to capacity and three overflow halls were also jammed as General Smuts furnished a "scientific world picture of today" in which he set the keynote for one of the greatest gatherings of scientists the world has ever seen.

FORESEES NEW ERA

General Smuts saw a new era of science which scraps materialism and may surpass religion in ethical uplift. He showed how recent scientific discoveries point to evidence the material objects recognized by man's senses are in their origins as immaterial as thought or mind, and that both materials and thought seem to go back to some principle of not-yet-understood unity, which he named "Holism."

NO LONGER INDEPENDENT

"The new concept has made it possible to construe matter, mass and energy as but definite measurable conditions of the curvature of space time," General Smuts declared. "We may say that matter and energy will have disappeared as independent entities and will have become mere configurations in space-time.

"The space-time world, however novel, however shattering to common sense, is not in conflict with reason. Indeed, the space-time world is largely a discovery of mathematical reason and is an entirely rational world."

SEIZE BOOKS OF MOVIE COMPANIES

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—Books and papers of seven motion picture companies, named by Peter White, K.C., as being members of an illegal combine, were seized here late today in a raid conducted by a combined force of provincial and city police.

Offices of the Canadian Paramount Corporation, Famous Players Canadian Corporation, the Bloom & Fine Theatres, Regal Films, Ltd., and Exhibitors' Distributing Co., Ltd., were among those visited by police.

There were no objections raised to the seizures in any of the offices, said Colonel R. H. Greer, K.C., who will conduct the prosecution for the province.

Prosecution is scheduled to commence October 5 at the Fall criminal assizes, with several other provinces co-operating with Ontario in the action.

BRITISH POSTAL ORDERS

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP).—The British Postmaster-General issued instructions today that British postal orders issued after September 22 will not be payable in Canada.

TEACHERS GIVE PORTION OF PAY

Will Provide Approximately $1,500 a Month for Unemployed Relief

Approximately $1,500 a month will be contributed toward the relief of unemployed men and women by the teachers of city schools, it was learned following a meeting of the city School Board last night.

A delegation of teachers waited upon the trustees to inform them that all teachers had volunteered to donate a certain percentage of their pay to aid jobless men and women.

The disposal of the money has been left in the hands of a committee of the teachers and trustees to discuss with the City Council.

It is expected, however, that the money probably will be used to provide employment for men in improving school grounds.

opposing legalized sick leave for teachers, and that teachers bear the cost of such leave for the first three days. Mr. Harper declared that in 1929 it cost Burnaby $25 per teacher for 139 teachers, and that it appeared to him some teachers were taking advantage of the act.

On the resolution being put, "opposing legalized sick leave for teachers and that they bear the cost of the first three days sick leave," it was carried with a good majority.

CURRICULUM REVISION

Endorsation was given to a resolution from Courtenay and Comox Valley branches requesting revision of the curriculum of the elementary public schools to include some of those subjects, such as languages, which would otherwise be new to those students entering high schools.

Burnaby and Vancouver resolutions, which were merged, call on the Department of Education for legislation placing school health inspectors' salaries on the same basis as teachers.

The convention closed with the selection of Kelowna as the meeting place for next year, with Courtenay a close second.

LOCAL KINSMEN VISIT DUNCAN

Victoria Club Members Make Trip to Learn of Winter Plans of Up-Island Club

Headed by Ainslie Helmcken, district governor, eight members of the Victoria Kinsmen Club last night paid an official visit to the Duncan Kinsmen Club and were entertained at a banquet in the Commercial Hotel, followed by a joint business meeting of the two organizations.

Governor Helmcken, and deputy governor Ernest Stock, were the speakers for the Victoria Club, while Harry Fox, president of the Up-Island club, spoke on behalf of his organization.

At the business meeting the Winter plans, commencing on October 1, of the Duncan club, were outlined to the Victorians, and it was learned that extensive programmes have been drawn up by both clubs, offering varied entertainment for the coming year.

B.C. SUCCESS IS FOLLOWED

Two High Police Officials Secure Data on Provincial Wireless Chain

Success by the British Columbia police in the operation of a chain of short-wave wireless stations for police purposes, covering an extensive range of territory, has drawn the attention of two other Canadian forces and the system may be emulated, it was revealed here yesterday.

Major-General J. H. MacBrien, head of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, while in the city made a call on Colonel J. H. McMullin, commissioner of the British Columbia force, and asked full particulars of the provincial wireless chain. This data was gladly supplied, and showed a high degree of efficiency for the system since its inception in July of 1929.

More than 8,000 messages have been handled by operators of the British Columbia police since that date, involving some 500,000 words. On many occasions wireless bridged a gap of hundreds of miles to assist in the execution of justice, where other means of communication would have necessitated a delay of days.

ALBERTA FOLLOWS SUIT

From headquarters in Victoria, stations of the chain are operated at Vancouver, Nelson, Kamloops, Prince Rupert and Prince George, being divisional points in the service. Two-way experimental communication has also been carried out with Edmonton successfully.

Another distinguished visitor to show interest in the British Columbia enterprise, which was the first short-wave chain of its kind in Canada, was Colonel W. C. Bryan, commissioner of the Alberta Provincial Police, recently in the city on a brief visit.

Colonel Bryan intimated that the Alberta force is now instituting a short-wave chain, modeled along the lines of the British Columbia system. Stations have already been installed at Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge, and these will be followed by two other stations, one of which is expected to be in the Peace River area. Diagrams and details of the British Columbia system were supplied to the Alberta Provincial Police at the request of Commissioner Bryan.

WILLY RODY TELLS GRAPHIC STORY OF BATTLE WITH SEA

We couldn't get along at night without this important instrument, so we immediately went down into warmer air, where the ice would melt. But we had no ease of mind now.

About 3 o'clock in the morning, Monday, September 14, our motor faltered and missed. The tachometer, an instrument which indicates the number of motor revolutions per minute, sank fast.

FAULTY PLUG

A sparkplug was not functioning, and the engine was stuttering along on only five of its six cylinders. The situation was perilous. It was the most dangerous moment of that dangerous night. But the motor kept going, and we headed toward where we knew land to be.

Daybreak was still four long hours away. The night continued strenuous and wearing. We were now flying about 300 feet above the sea. We used smoke bombs to gauge the force of the head wind we were butting.

DESPERATE PLIGHT

Straight ahead! We determined precisely our drift and the force of the wind. It was a matter of life and death. A hackneyed, weary phrase, but we knew its truth then only too well.

Now and then we ventured to throttle the motor somewhat, but that wouldn't do. The vibration of the engine had become so severe that we couldn't read the compass any more. There was imminent danger of our magnet needles breaking off.

But we flew straight ahead with confidence that we would yet make land. At last we saw a distant speck on the sea. It grew larger. It was a passenger steamship, the Pennland.

LOCATED POSITION

Instantly we ascertained from our map the distance to land from that ship's course. Quickly we circled above the Pennland. Little did those on board know of our desperate situation. They thought, probably, that we were saying a gay good morning.

We had no time. After our circle over the ship we struck off again.

Two hours after we had sighted the Pennland the only fuel left was that in the reserve tank. Our supply should have lasted forty-eight hours, but it had burned out in thirty-six.

MOTOR STOPPED

Twenty minutes more and the motor stopped. Our flight had ended. We must drop into that ocean eighty sea miles, or ninety-two land miles, from shore.

Our feeling was indescribable. Suspense tightened and twisted our nerves. We looked at each other. We looked at that ocean. A forced landing far at sea in a land machine? What a tremendous hazard!

But the plane came bravely and steadily to rest on a big billow. I had one hand on the stick and the other on the hatch, ready to throw it open the instant we touched water.

WINGS BROKEN

We scrambled swiftly up on the fuselage and held tight. Immediately the seas attacked our plane. In a few minutes the wings were full of water and parts of them broke off.

Each instant we expected to go down. The sea grew rougher. We had increased difficulty in hanging on.

Then a great wave stove in the cabin door. Our belongings were washed away. There went our maps, our provisions, everything. Before we came down no one had thought to take care of the food and fresh water. We were to regret this later.

Seas broke over us and soaked us. When night fell that Monday the fourteenth it brought cold with it. At dark we managed to make our way through the pilot room into the cabin. This was half under water. There was no longer any place to sit.

We hoped and prayed throughout that night that the plane would stay on the surface until dawn.

TERRIBLE NIGHTS

Never shall we forget this night, or the nights that followed before our rescue. The first night we spent standing in rising water in the little cabin. The waves battered the plane, carrying on their work of destruction. The upper fin was torn off, and the skin of the wings was ripped like paper from the spars.

At daybreak on Tuesday, the fifteenth, we sought a dry place to sit. So we dismounted the motor covering and fastened it above the pilots' seats. At last we could rest a bit and review the experiences of recent hours.

No food, except seven ounces of chocolate which we had found in our pockets, and soaked through and through!

Now to wait until help came. Toward noon the weather improved. The sea became calmer. The pounding of our little land ship abated.

The next day, September 16, the weather was about the same. Our drinking water from the motor was getting less. We crouched in the pilotroom throughout that day, maintaining a feverish lookout.

CONSERVED WATER

But the seas were empty. We saw nothing. Only countless miles of tossing ocean. So it continued Thursday, the 17th, and Friday. We did our best to conserve the drinking water. We barely nibbled our chocolate.

Friday night there was a strong wind. It blew nearly forty miles an hour. Apparently our doom was sealed.

Momentarily we looked for a wing to break completely off and the machine to turn over on its side. We planned to climb on to the last part of the plane to remain above water, and there to await our last hour.

NO REST

The plane was trembling and groaning in every joint. Continually the waves broke white over the pilots' seats. The wind forced the ship lower and lower into the water. We hadn't a moment of rest until dawn on Saturday, the 19th.

PITIABLE PLIGHT

Friday night had been a hard one. Our skin started to peel from the salt water. Our eyes burned from constant watching. We were freezing cold now, both day and night.

Our companion, Da Costa Viega, had been injured and had developed fever. We could not help him. We had no bandages.

We prepared a distress signal. At the tail of the plane we mounted a steering post and to this we fastened a smoke bomb and a flag.

By now every bit of work tired us tremendously. We felt very weak.

Sunday broke, with the ocean still empty. And then, at noon that day, September 20, we sighted a freight steamer. Rescue had come!

We waved our flag till all strength had left us. But that ship never saw us. It was unbelievable. She was so near we could make out her rigging, but our signal was never seen.

Slowly the ship steamed off over the horizon.

WERE DESPERATE

We were desperate. We knew now this part of the ocean was little traveled. Our strength was nearly totally gone. If another ship should come we might not be able to signal.

All the rest of that day our thoughts were sombre. No one said a word. The disappointment had been too bitter.

The next day, Monday, September 21, we were about to get our scanty ration of drinking water from the motor cooler when again we saw a ship, far off, where sky and ocean joined.

Instantly we began to signal—the vessel saw us—it turned our way—we were saved!

SAFE ON STEAMER

Half an hour later the boat came to beside us. It was a motorship, the freighter Belmoira, bound from Albany, N.Y., to Russia, with a load of locomotives.

Ropes came swirling down. We were taken aboard. We were greeted heartily by the skipper, Captain Kristian Hald, and his men.

Now our strength was really done. We waved farewell to our plane. It had done its duty, and we couldn't take it with us for the deck space was taken up with locomotives.

The next day, Tuesday of this week, we were transferred to the passenger liner Stavangerfjord. On that ship we are now nearing New York. The captain and the passengers are being most kind to us and Viega is receiving the medical attention he needs.

PROGRESS MADE ON B.C. PLANS

Senator Robertson will come to Victoria on Friday, when he will meet Premier Tolmie and the Cabinet in the final settlement of the Federal-Provincial agreement which will underly the big programme of construction to be undertaken in British Columbia by the several agencies in coming months.

OFFICIALS COMMENDED

Officials of the Public Works Department were commended by the Federal Minister of Labor for the able manner in which the details of the provincial programme had been assembled and set out.

Thirty-eight construction camps have now been opened by the Province, and 7,300 men are at work on relief undertakings. Camps at or close to the provincial boundary, between British Columbia and Alberta, are being considered, as a means of halting influx of transients into British Columbia. Alberta, it was reported, is also experiencing this influx over its Saskatchewan border.

Work on the Transcanada Highway and the three main transprovincial routes is to be increased shortly, and diversions on the transcanada route will be borne wholly by the Federal Government in some instances. To other provincial highway works, the Dominion will contribute one-half the cost.

Mr. Jones announces adequate steps were being taken by the Province to check up on the actual need of those who have registered under the provincial plan. Meanwhile negotiations on municipal plans is being pushed rapidly ahead.

SAVES MONEY BY TERRIFIC BATTLE

Two Vancouver Men Held Up by Bandits—One Receives Injuries About Face

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Two citizens were victims of bandits on Tuesday night. A. Ostrom, East Hastings Street, engaged in a terrific battle with two robbers in the lane west of the 400 block, Gore Avenue, at midnight and suffered injuries about his face, according to his report to the police.

The bandits tore a ring from his finger and fled without obtaining money or other valuables.

Frank Slowin, tailor, was held up in his office at 825 Granville Street shortly after 8 o'clock and was robbed of $30 and a diamond stickpin valued at $350.

Two men apparently followed Mr. Slowin from a cafe to his office. He had just entered his premises when he heard a knock on his office door. He was met by two men. One covered him with a revolver and compelled him to step back. Both followed him into the room.

The second bandit seized Mr. Slowin, held a hand over his mouth, searched him and took his valuables.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Mr. Justice Louis Coderre of the Superior Court here has definitely refused the position of chairman of the Railway Commission, The Montreal Star says today. His Lordship was in conference with Cabinet ministers in Ottawa yesterday and returned to his home here last night.

STUDENTS GIVEN SCHOOL AWARDS

Esquimalt High and Public School Pupils Receive Prizes at the Opening Exercises

Marking the first time that the public school and high school opening exercises have been held under joint auspices, the 1931-32 school term was officially commenced in Esquimalt yesterday at the Esquimalt High School.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Provincial Minister of Education, attended and addressed a few remarks to the gathering, commenting upon the school work of last year and the high standard of it.

PRESENTED PRIZES

Following is a list of the prizes and those who presented them: Entrance certificates, boys, Mr. Lockley, girls, Mrs. Sarah King; first aid certificates, Mrs. R. H. Pooley; Esquimalt Women's Institute gold medal, Mrs. Cave; school board prizes, Mr. Lockley; honor rolls, Mrs. King; and special prizes, Hon. Mr. Hinchliffe.

As announced by the chairman, the Canadian Club prizes were won jointly this year and similar awards were given to each of the successful students.

An item of interest on the programme was the presentation to Phyllis Hadfield of the Women's Institute gold medal for leading her grade in the entrance examinations.

"Didn't I hear the clock strike two as you came in last night?"

"You did, dear. It started to strike eleven, but I stopped it so that it wouldn't wake you."

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this — an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that MacFarlane Drug Store and Vancouver Drug Co. say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.

RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN WANCHAI

HONGKONG, Sept. 23 (AP).—Rioting broke out tonight in the Wanchai district, where street gamins attacked many Japanese shops, smashing their windows and doing other extensive damage.

The Japanese residents of the district acted with discretion, and as a result there was no open fighting. The police quelled the riot after an hour's smash-and-run orgy.

DRIVER OF CAR GAINS FREEDOM

Youth Whose Auto Struck and Killed Nurse Elderton Is Dismissed

The sixteen-year-old driver of the automobile that struck and fatally injured Miss Violet Elderton, who was riding a bicycle at the intersection of Cook and Yates Streets on the night of September 2, was dismissed from a charge of manslaughter by Police Magistrate George Jay, following his preliminary hearing in the city police court yesterday morning.

In dismissing the charge, the magistrate said he did not think the evidence was sufficient to warrant a committal. City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison, following the taking of evidence, stated that the accident differed from that in which Robert D. Hall had been involved, Mr. Hall having been committed for trial.

TEN WITNESSES CALLED

Witnesses were examined by the city prosecutor. Miss Doris Bagshaw, 532 Linden Avenue, an eyewitness, said she saw a woman riding a bicycle and she passed as witness was walking north on Cook Street towards Yates Street. She noticed, she said, that the cyclist had not stopped at the "stop sign." She saw an auto approaching at about twenty-two miles an hour. She said she saw the driver of the car swerve, but not in time to avoid an accident. Witness stated she was not certain whether there was a light on the bicycle.

J. R. Freer, 330 Irving Road, said he was driving west on Yates Street and saw another car turn towards Cook Street. The bicycle traveled alongside for a short distance and then swerved into the auto. Witness said it appeared dangerous for a cyclist to cross the street at the time the traffic was heavy.

Miss Jessie Edwards, 914 Yates Street, testified she had witnessed the accident and said she would not have ventured to cross the intersection at the time, she being accustomed to riding a bicycle. She said the south side of the corner was poorly lighted.

SAW BICYCLE SWERVE

George Barton, 80 Regina Avenue, said he and three others were on their way to the exhibition when the accident happened. He saw the cyclist dart in front of the auto, turn away, and then back into the auto. He said if there had been a light on the bicycle he would have seen it.

Dr. E. L. McNiven testified that the young woman had died from a fracture of the base of the skull, probably caused by impact with the pavement. Constable Maurice Wilkinson, who attended with the police ambulance, said he had found a small bicycle lamp near the body.

The juvenile was represented in court only by his father, a fact to which Mr. Harrison referred when addressing the magistrate.

GETS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Charles F. Luscombe Wins Suit Against Harry N. Dunnett in County Court

Charles Ford Luscombe, Prospect Lake, was awarded $450 damages by Judge P. S. Lampman in County Court yesterday against Harry Norman Dunnett, of Esquimalt. Mr. Luscombe sued for $1,000. A counter-claim by Mr. Dunnett, also for $1,000, failed.

The action arose out of a shooting at Mr. Luscombe's cabin at Prospect Lake on October 4, 1930, in which Mr. Dunnett was wounded. Mr. Luscombe was tried at the assize court last Spring and was acquitted by a jury.

The hearing of the action occupied all day, as witnesses rehearsed evidence given in the other courts. W. T. Straith appeared for Mr. Dunnett, and R. C. Lowe conducted the case for Mr. Luscombe.

CHIEF ALLAN RANKIN

Chief Allan Rankin was the first witness and testified to being called to Mr. Luscombe's cabin early in the morning of October 4, where he found Mr. Dunnett lying wounded on a bed from bullets which Mr. Luscombe admitted he had inflicted. He said, in his opinion, Mr. Dunnett had been drinking prior to the shooting, and sang "Meet Me in the Moonlight" as he was being taken to the ambulance.

Mr. Luscombe, in his evidence, reviewed the events of the night of the shooting, stating that Mr. Dunnett had come to his cabin shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning in a state of intoxication. He had with him a gallon jar, partly filled with wine. Mr. Luscombe said he refused a drink, and Mr. Dunnett suddenly became angry, blew out an oil lamp and grabbed him around the neck. There was a scuffle, the witness said, and Mr. Dunnett continued his hold. Mr. Luscombe said he was almost choked to death when he reached down and touched his rifle. Witness admitted he brought the rifle into play and fired two shots, or three. Mr. Dunnett, he said, then loosened his hold.

FIRED THREE SHOTS

Mr. Dunnett's story was that he had gone to Mr. Luscombe's cabin with the idea of going hunting at daylight, and the two were seated in the kitchen when a quarrel started over the ownership of a dog. Mr. Dunnett claimed that Mr. Luscombe jumped up and fired three times at him. He denied that he was drunk, but admitted having two or three drinks. He denied struggling with Mr. Luscombe. He also stated he had no recollection of singing after the shooting.

John R. Collister, expert gunsmith, said he had examined the premises and found that bullet holes through a partition had been fired from the bedroom about two feet above and horizontal with the floor. Mr. Collister's evidence was substantiated by Allan B. Ford, who was also called as a witness. Constable P. K. Cummings, of the Saanich police, corroborated the evidence of Chief Rankin.

DEFENCE CLAIMS

W. T. Straith, who made a strong plea in defence of the action, stated if the story of Mr. Luscombe was to be taken as true, then the plaintiff would only be entitled to such damages as he had personally suffered. He claimed the plaintiff could not claim damages for loss of dignity because no one had witnessed the incident.

R. C. Lowe addressed the court and reviewed the various angles of the affair at the Luscombe cabin and maintained his client was entitled to the damages claimed on the grounds that he had suffered injuries for which damages should be given.

In giving judgment Judge Lampman said: "It is a strange thing, yet it is right. If a man is drunk and asks another to have a drink and he refuses, he must be prepared to fight, and I think that is what happened in this instance. I believe that Luscombe's story is substantially true." His Honor said he considered the plaintiff had suffered damages and was entitled to succeed in his action.

INTERPRETER ON TRIAL FOR FRAUD

Vancouver Japanese Charged With Breach of Trust — Witnesses Entered Canada Illegally

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Trial opened here today in Assize Court, before Mr. Justice Gregory and a jury, of Fred Yoshy, Japanese, charged with breach of trust and fraud while acting as part-time interpreter for the Canadian immigration officers in Vancouver.

Two Japanese witnesses, Erimatsu Suzuki and K. Suzuki, alleged to have entered Canada illegally, gave evidence. The former, who came to Canada in 1921, testified that he gave 100 yen to a man named Mochizuki in Japan for Canadian citizenship papers, and that he had also given 15 yen to one Muryama, also in Japan, for a vise. Yoshy met him aboard the boat, he said, and he gave Yoshy $50 and his papers, which he has not seen since.

K. Suzuki testified that he "paid nothing to get into Canada."

Other witnesses heard were H. E. Skinner, immigration commissioner; D. Hyndman, immigration inspector, and Detective Sergeant L. J. Sampson, R.C.M.P., who arrested Yoshy.

Trial will continue tomorrow morning.

WOMAN IS KILLED BY FUMIGATING FUMES

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—Inhaling hydrocyanic gas when she walked into an apartment which was being fumigated here, Miss Pearl Witich was found dead last night in the building. Warning signs on the building announced fumigation was taking place.

She had been dead for about nine hours when the body was discovered half way up the staircase. Except for about fifteen minutes during the morning, a guard had been kept on the building to prevent anyone from entering.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS TO BE DISPLAYED

Victoria Horticultural Society to Stage First Show in City on October 3

The first chrysanthemum show ever to be staged in Victoria will be held in the Shrine Hall on Saturday, October 3, under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society. The display has been brought about by the urgent requests of a number of the members and promises to be a splendid exhibition of these beautiful flowers.

A number of varieties have been introduced in the past year and it is expected that samples of each of these will be on display. Many growers in Victoria specialize in growing chrysanthemums and the public has never had an opportunity before of seeing the results of their endeavors. In addition to chrysanthemums there will be classes for other Fall flowers, chiefly michaelmas daisies, and several classes for dahlias, gladioli and flowers now in bloom.

Of particular interest in the show is expected to be the class for decorated tables. These features in other shows have always proved a drawing card for growers and no doubt this display will not be an exception.

Prize lists may be obtained from all floral stores in the city, or from the secretary, F. E. Boulter, 538 Obed Avenue (E 8490).

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

An elderly lady who takes a most kindly interest in Rover, whatever her opinion of Rover's master may be, asked him, the other day, if he "wasn't tired of roamin' around with me?"

My old dog did not answer, it appears, and the elderly lady thought, no doubt, that he was very rude. He was flabbergasted, taken unawares, as it were, and came running to me to know what to say.

There are many questions I could ask her elderly ladyship which would be as difficult to give an immediate and adequate reply to; so, I trust, she will forgive Rover, and that she will see what would have been my view of the matter, had her query been addressed to myself.

I am sure that Rover would never consent to roam around with anyone else, and I am equally certain that my lady really meant to ask him if he was not weary of continually roaming' around. So, that being the case, I shall try to tell you why I have always roamed around, still roam around, and hope to continue to roam around until I drop. "And may that be yet awhile, Master!" says Rover.

IT'S THIS WAY

It began when I was born. My pater held a roving commission in India, for over thirty years, and when he took his year's furlough, every once in a while, he came home to England, and he roamed around for that year, here and there. So I was born to a roamin' around existence, and can point to some fifteen different homes, before I was fifteen; to say nothing about the six schools I lazed at.

Ever since that great historical (!) event, circumstances have kindly made me acquainted with numerous lands, numerous cities and countless people, mostly kind. Hence roamin' around is in the blood, also has been acquired, and is, I hope, never to be relinquished till the game is up!

There has long been a longing to roam around the Old Land, again; to revisit that friendly country on the Continent where student days were so full of delights; and there has ever been a hankering for the Tonga and neighboring islands, for a trip to Finland, since reading a dandy article on that "land of lakes;" and now, ever since a recent regal reception of reigning realities, there has come over two rovers an ardent desire to see Siam.

IT'S JOLLY FINE FUN!

Old Rover and I, we just love to rove!
(Just roamin' around is jolly fine fun!)
And, loving tall trees in their native grove,
And flowers—so sweet in their wild alcove,
We ramble along, till the day is done!

We carry no worries within our packs,
(Just roamin' around is jolly fine fun!)
For, toting anxieties on our backs
Is foolishness, bringing on heart attacks.
We ramble along, till the day is done!

But, we love all things; and each soul we greet,
(Just roamin' around is jolly fine fun!)
We strive, all our might, with loving to greet;
When some are unfriendly, we beat retreat;
We ramble along, till the day is done!

It's quite on the cards, we'll finish our tramp;
(Just roamin' around is jolly fine fun!)
And, one of these days, we'll make our last camp,
As the fire dies down and out goes the lamp.
With adieu to long rambles, our work is done.

Till that day arrives, we shall roam at will,
(Just roamin' around is jolly fine fun!)
And we'll keep together, and good Pals, still;
Climbing life's grades to the top o' the hill,
We'll ramble along till our ramblin's done!

Fishing Folk Search For Missing Flyers

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, Sept. 23 (AP).—Spurred by a broadcast appeal from London, fishing folk of the Orkney and Shetland Islands started a far flung search today for traces of Parker D. Cramer and Oliver Pacquette.

Ships in northern waters also maintained a sharp lookout for the American airmen on the chance they might have been cast ashore on one of the sparsely settled islands.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

CATCHING AN UNCATCHABLE KING

When the dummy goes down showing three trumps to the ace and the adversary sitting at the right of the dummy holds four trumps to the king, he would consider it as certain as the truths of the multiplication table that the king of trumps must make a trick unless he were foolish enough to cover a lead from the closed hand. However, my good friend, Philip Leon, of Cleveland, demonstrated recenty in a championship match that a king so situated is not always safe. The play of the hand was extremely interesting and most unusual. Mr. Leon was the only one of twelve players holding the South cards to make a game on the hand.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Dbl.(1)	Pass(2)	2♢
2♠(3)	Pass	3♠(4)	Pass
4♠(5)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1. West's double is not sound. North and South had a good chance of getting into the wrong declaration, namely, a game bid in no trump, if West had passed. However, West started to create the impression of greater strength than he held and felt the chance of defeating the spade game was better than of defeating a game of no trump.

2. North, with an evenly distributed hand, although he holds two honor tricks, believes it better strategy to permit East to bid and thus learn whether his partner has a free rebid.

3. South has six and a half playing tricks and his bid of one spade has not presented an accurate picture of this unusual strength.

4. North holding the ace of trumps and one honor trick in hearts feels that he must support his partner's bid, even although the distribution is unfavorable. The raise is considerably shaded, but probably justified on the bidding.

5. South is fully justified in bidding for game.

In the play, West opened the king of diamonds and followed with the ace and his last diamond which South ruffed. South now led the queen of spades and west, of course, refused to cover and a small spade was played from the dummy hand. The second lead of spades disclosed the fact that West had four and apparently must make a spade trick. Mr. Leon, however, still had a shot in his locker. He led three rounds of hearts, eliminating all hearts from the North and South hands. Fortunately, he found an even distribution of the suit. Next he led the ace and king of clubs and East was compelled to win the third round of that suit. The cards remaining in the various hands at this time were:

♣ 6

♠ K 7

S

♡ 10
♢ Q

♠ 10 9

East must lead either a diamond or a heart and West was helpless. South trumped with one of his equals and whether West over-trumped or not, he could not take the trick.

A dangerous situation in which defeat seemed absolutely certain had been turned by accurate play into a glorious victory. The student will note that the line of play adopted by Mr. Leon had nothing to lose and everything to gain. If West ruffed either a heart or a club, he was only making a trump that he must make if the distribution was such as to permit him to do this. If, however, he held three hearts and three clubs and was not able to take the last round of clubs, the line of play adopted by Mr. Leon must win, and it was the only possible play in which ten tricks could be made by the declarer.

TODAY'S POINTER

After the first forcing takeout, it is not necessary for either partner to force again; it is a part of the forcing principle that the bidding must be automatically kept open until a game is contracted for. It is most advantageous to derive full benefit from partner's responses at the lowest possible level of bidding and to avoid unnecessary crowding.

Hot Water For Indigestion

A Cupful Taken With a Little Bisurated Magnesia Whenever Stomach Hurts, Brings INSTANT RELIEF!

For sour acid stomach, gas, belching, bloating, fermentation, heartburn, indigestion and after-eating pains, there probably is nothing better than a spoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia taken in a cupful of hot water. It brings almost immediate relief in nearly every instance, and does not hurt the stomach or weaken the natural power of digestion as do many stomach drugs and artificial digestants.

Hot Water and Bisurated Magnesia make an ideal combination, because while the Bisurated Magnesia is neutralising the acids in your stomach that are causing the sourness, pain and gas, the hot water is drawing the blood to the stomach, creating a proper circulation to prevent the formation of more acid.

Thousands of former stomach sufferers now make "hot water with Bisurated Magnesia" their regular after-eating practice, and eat as they please and what they please without fear of indigestion, pains or gas. Bisurated Magnesia—in powder or tablets—is obtainable from every well-stocked druggist, and should not be confused with Milk or Citrate Magnesia. Be sure your Magnesia is Bisurated, and try it after your next meal. (Advt.)

AT THE CROSS-ROADS

If it is not war, as declared by the Chancellor of the Imperial Exchequer, the conditions are grimly reminiscent of war-time. If it is peace, the business elements are striking discordant notes, and the sounds which proceed from the exchanges are not soothing to the nerves. The British pound has fallen from its high estate and the Canadian dollar is at a discount. Those conditions are certainly reminiscent of war-time.

But after the War there came the Armistice, and things began to mend and the prospects to improve. After the Armistice there came peace and settlements, but the settlements did not permanently remove the effects of the war. In fact, the settlements aggravated the effects of the war, hence the disjointed conditions prevailing in the world today. So the perplexing business of restoring the business of the world to pre-war conditions, or approximately thereto, will have to be begun all over again.

The fact will be rembered that when the war broke out the watchword went forth from Britain, "business as usual." The same word has gone forth from Britain today, "business as usual." But it is easier to say the word than to continue business as usual. Business in British is different, business in Canada is different, and business throughout the world is different. The collapse in the value of the pound, the standard of values throughout the whole world, has dislocated business, and business will never be the same again until the pound is re-established in value.

The British people are a peculiar people: they are not easily depressed. They went into the war with a song on their lips if not in their hearts. When they were not fighting in the front line they were playing games behind the line. If it is war today, as the Chancellor has said it is, the British will fight for the restoration of business, but when they are not fighting, they will either be playing games or watching other people playing games. If the fall in the value of the pound temporarily raises the prices of the necessaries of life and higher rates of taxation increase the cost of beer, they will tighten their belts "and go to it."

And probably, if politics is to some extent responsible for the present untoward circumstances, they will change their politics, or at least adjust their politics to the circumstances, and by getting behind new political combinations or forming new political combinations, devote all their energies to saving the country from the consequences of political mistakes.

Great Britain bore the burden of the war, but she has broken down temporarily under the attempt to carry the even more grievous burden of the peace, aggravated by the attempt to maintain a large portion of her population in idleness. So there must be an external as well as an internal adjustment of the burden of the peace. There is an old saying that when conditions are as bad as they can be, there must soon be a change for the better. If the rest of the world is indifferent to the conditions which prevail in Britain and refuses to carry its share of the burden of the peace, the British Empire is large and its resources immeasurable. If there cannot be fair trade throughout the world, there can be preferential trade within the Empire. Surely it is not a forlorn hope that a Government may be formed in Britain which has the courage and foresight to take occasion by the hand and take the first step towards the creation of a united Empire, for the Empire is it exists today is but a disjointed affair, as widely dislocated as the state of business.

EXPLOITING UNEMPLOYMENT

It may be a hard thing to say, but we believe it is necessary to say, that altogether too much has been said, written and printed upon the subject of unemployment, and what must be done to provide the unemployed with employment. We say this because there are unscrupulous political parties, and possibly some private parties, who are only too willing to turn the question of unemployment to their own advantage.

For example, there is a general election pending in the province of Manitoba. There is a Government in Manitoba which claims to be superior to any other Government that ever existed in Manitoba or anywhere else. This claim is based upon the fact that the present Manitoba Government is not composed of elements which have been drawn from any of the old or orthodox political parties, but of politicians who are superior in virtue to all politicians of the old school.

The Government of Manitoba is neither Conservative nor Liberal. It is a class-conscious Government, composed for the greater part of farmers, but in some part of professional men. It is composed of a class which, if it were religious, would be called "unco guid," or holier than thou, persons, against whom many a shaft of satire has been hurled by irreverent persons.

This superior Government has been charged with attempting to exploit the unemployment situation to its advantage. The Dominion Government has been deluged with claims from almost every province of Canada upon behalf of the unemployed. Every province of Canada has taken censuses of the unemployed and filed the lists and claims with the Dominion Government.

The charge against the Manitoba Government is that it has padded its lists of the unemployed, that in some cases the lists of the unemployed have been padded so liberally, investigation has proved that in some districts the unemployed are almost equal to the entire population as disclosed by the Dominion Census returns. It has been further charged that the Manitoba Government is so deep and sly that it has been using or attempting to use unemployment funds received from the Dominion Government for the purpose of corrupting the electors who will vote in the pending provincial election.

If the Dominion Liberal party had its Beauharnois, the Manitoba Farmers' party appears to have discovered an even richer field for exploitation. Making the taxpayers of all Canada contribute to the campaign fund of a provincial Government must be one of the slickest political tricks ever exposed.

WILES OF AN AGITATOR

We see by the papers that the Dominion Trades and Labor Council has been sitting in Vancouver. We also see by the papers that the hand and mind of our old Communistic friend, the irrepressible Jimmy Simpson, a writer and agitator employed by The Toronto Star, has been active in the deliberations of the council.

Jimmy is a strong, even a violent, opponent of Protection, and an equally strong, even violent, advocate of Free Trade, free speech, and what he calls individual liberty. Mr. Simpson believes that the existing economic order is quite wrong and should be destroyed by any means. He is a stalwart defender of Toronto Communists, who appear to be in constant conflict with the police. The police are maintained for the purpose of maintaining law and order. The Toronto Communists advocate measures of disorder and violence. Jimmy Simpson denounces war as international disorder, but he defends internecine war or national disorder.

At the meeting of the Trades Council held in Vancouver a motion was made demanding that the Dominion Government resume trade and general relations with Russia. The hand and mind of Jimmy Simpson may easily be discerned in that resolution, although the name of the mover of the resolution was suppressed. A resolution like that is moved at every meeting of representatives of labor, and it always emanates from one source. It is a hardy annual and lively perennial, but it is nearly always nipped in the bud, as it was at the Vançouver meeting. Canadian Labor is not deeply enamored with the conditions of Labor in Russia. Russia may be a happy land, but it is far, far away, and while imagination may picture it as a delectable bourne, it is a bourne from which every traveller is delighted to return.

Mahatma Gandhi professes to be a man of peace, but his followers in India are resorting to violence. Probably when the peaceful one made a speech on the eve of his departure from India exhorting the people he professes to speak for not to break the peace, he said something which was interpreted as an incentive to violence. There is sometimes a double meaning to words and sentences. At any rate, the Mahatma probably could be of greater service at home than he is likely to be in England, for he says himself that the conference on India is making no progress.

The pound may have its periods of weakness, but, weak or strong, it is a powerful factor in the business of foreign nations. Its temporary lapse has created confusion on practically all marts and exchanges. Its rival the dollar is in the ascendency for a time, but the pound, like the invincible sport, will "come back."

When business in Britain is dislocated, business in every part of the world is adversely affected. When the nation of shopkeepers closes one shop, there is dismay amongst all the minor shopkeepers of the world.

HOME BOUND

Some men feel the pull of tides
And the call of the flying foam.
Their hearts rebound at the seagull's note,
And their lips taste salt at the sight of a boat,
For to them the sea is Home.

But I want the peace of the green earth's breast
And the scent of the soft-turned loam.
I want the song from the blackbird's throat,
And the sea of sky where the cloudboats float,
For to me the earth is Home.

—H. I. Rostron in The Empire Review.

THE MISER HEART

Why do I think to bring again the past
Into the present's unrepented hour?
I would not have life otherwise—the sour
Is turned to sweetness—yet my heart holds fast
To ancient loyalties. Here, in the vast
Bazaar of time, we have to pick and choose,
And, gaining one thing, must another lose.
Yet I would hold all loveliness to the last.

My heart is miserly of happiness,
And so a little shadow goes with me
Along the sunny years. Gladly I say,
"The best is mine," and yet a vague distress
Is with me evermore that there should be
No resurrection of dead yesterday.

DODGING DEATH DAILY

Sir,—Traffic infractions are so numerous and varied that much more time and space than this letter occupies would be required for a complete review of the subject; but a few of the more common violations can be considered briefly, and if the remedy be applied killings and maimings will become fewer.

Passing other cars traveling in the same direction, without due care, jeopardizes lives of pedestrians and other motorists. Turning corners at high speed is a menace to anything on the street. Ignoring "stop" signs may involve manslaughter and suicide. Driving at excessive speed along Beach Drive and such-like highways, on which children are likely to appear at any moment, without warning, is looking for trouble. Sudden speeding-up so that pedestrians are trapped in the middle of the street and cannot proceed to sidewalk is despicable. Taking signals for granted may be fatal; many signals mean anything or nothing at all. Seeing how near to a pedestrian, without hitting him, a car may be stopped is amusing, but it is hard on the victim's nerves. And, of course, speed and more speed is the curse of the age.

Killings and maimings have been so numerous during the past few weeks that nervous apprehension is increasing traffic risks and making it more necessary than ever for all persons using the streets, whether on foot or otherwise, to exercise due precautions and observe all traffic regulations.

None of the violations mentioned above need be committed if the driver be competent. Proof of efficiency should be required before a licence is granted. A practical test should be set and a certificate granted only to those who pass. A fee of $5 would meet the cost and make a few more jobs. Railwaymen must prove themselves efficient before human lives are placed in their care. Then, why make it possible for irresponsibles to scatter death and destruction on every public highway? The present driver's licence is a tragedy. It enables mere boys, with no driving experience, to hire cars and ran amuck.

Drivers who take risks should be promptly dealt with. They should be compelled to wear a red hat, or something equally distinctive, so that pedestrians and other motorists might know and avoid them as potential "killers." If sufficient cause be found, cancellation of licence forever should follow without waiting for a life to be sacrificed. We can be too thoughtful for the dangerous driver and too thoughtless for his victims.

Motor maniacs are too perilous to be trifled with. Young children and deaf, near-sighted, and lame persons use the streets, and traffic regulations should be sufficiently stringent to insure their safety. If power be lacking, it should be sought at the next session of the Legislature.

Automatic traffic signals in the downtown section would help matters, but in the outskirts conditions would remain as at present. A special squad of traffic police for a few weeks would clean up the trouble, and offenders' fines would meet the cost. The regular police cannot be everywhere at once, but twenty or thirty plain clothes men, changing their spheres of operation rapidly and often would supply the necessary reinforcement.

Some cyclists are as dangerous as the worst motorist, and pedestrians are not blameless, but these only make it more necessary for drivers of death-dealing machines to keep within the safety limit at all times, so that "dodging death daily" may lose its meaning in Victoria.

CIVIC STADIUM

Sir,—Will you allow me to congratulate you on your timely editorial in last Sunday's edition on the question of a stadium in Victoria.

The need for a stadium is emphasized even now by the fact that the governing bodies of three major outdoor games are asking for the use of the Royal Athletic Park for the coming season, and this demand will grow in Victoria as surely as it has done in all other cities on the continent.

A public stadium is as necessary to any city as a playground is to a school, and money invested in it will certainly yield better returns than that expended on gardens, parks or boulevards.

COMPENSATION FOR CRIPPLE

Sir,—A case was brought to the attention of the Canadian Red Cross Society of a young man who had lost his leg in an accident some years ago and was unable to earn a living in consequence.

Through the efforts of Mr. Fred Landsberg and Mr. F. Nation, the amount required for an artificial leg was collected and handed in to the Red Cross office today.

This young man will be fitted with an artificial leg through the kind co-operation of the Department of Pensions and National Health.

J. G. CORRY WOOD,
Commissioner Canadian Red Cross.
Victoria, B.C., Sept. 23, 1931.

STREET TRAFFIC

Sir,—Through your valuable columns, may I ask our City Fathers if it is necessary at present to install electric controls on our downtown streets?

Control systems have been tried here and discontinued, most pedestrians, it seems, paying no attention to the man on point duty. This may be a peculiarity of Victorians. We are in a quiet Capital City and there is no need for speed as one finds it in the commercial cities of the Mainland. This happy-go-lucky attitude is the envy of all visitors to Victoria. Besides the cost of purchase, there would be the added expense of several extra police officers to see that such signals were observed. With 70 per cent of the big cumbersome street cars, with their slow pickup, using the bottleneck of lower Yates Street, there will be plenty of delays for everyone.

The city streets belong to the general public, and if the police department permitted parallel parking only, on Yates Street from Blanshard to Douglas, and on Douglas Street from View to Johnson, there would be no traffic problem.

Stop the menace of the hick kids who pile into an ancient flivver, three in the driver's seat, every Sunday evening and use the city streets for a racetrack.

And in conclusion, I ask is it necessary for every freight, fuel and lumber truck, Oak Bay garbage truck and ponderous road rollers to make it a point to crowd into the intersection of Yates and Douglas Streets every trip? The fire department has long since abandoned this practice. The others could, or should, be made to do likewise.

A LOSS AND A NEED

Sir,—The loss of our Victoria skating arena has been, and still is, sincerely felt by all the young people of Victoria.

A short time ago there was a great deal of talk about using the new Horse Show Building at the Willows for an ice rink, but it did not materialize. This is a great pity, as we are sure there has not been anything in Victoria missed to such an extent.

Ice skating is one of the most wholesome and cleanest indoor sport that the young people can enjoy during the Winter months, and is always very popular. After being confined in an office or store all day, it seems a shame we should be deprived of this healthy sport.

If some public-spirited business men would bring this matter to a satisfactory conclusion, so that we can be assured of an ice rink for the coming Winter we are sure they would have the gratitude of the young people of Victoria.

FACTS ABOUT OAKALLA

Sir,—In view of the fact that you published in today's issue a letter from Mrs. Dorothy North, in which my name is mentioned, I take it that in the interests of fair play you will publish my reply.

Mrs. North states that she has evidence from a man who was three years in Oakalla; possibly she is not aware that anybody with two years' sentence or over goes to the penitentiary, and not to Oakalla at all.

She also stated that the individual concerned received $10 upon discharge from Oakalla. I beg to point out that while it is the practice of the penitentiary to give this sum to men on release, Oakalla does not give them anything.

Furthermore, the idea she has apparently got that people in Oakalla get "chicken dinners" is not hard to disprove.

I am quite ready to back up all statements that I have made regarding Oakalla, and I can produce all necessary witnesses.

If what I have said is untrue, why have proceedings not been taken against me?

FISHING IN SAANICH ARM

Sir,—I read with interest Mr. MacFarlane's letter in your issue of the 17th as to conditions in Saanich Inlet and in Goldstream.

The statement that grilse and coho salmon have steadily decreased in Saanich Inlet surprises me. Personally I do not fish there, but I know a good number of men who do so yearly, and some of them have told me within less than a month that the fishing there this year was the best in their experience.

As to conditions in Goldstream, so far as I am advised no spring or coho salmon enter Goldstream and spawn there. The run to that stream consists almost wholly of chums or dog salmon, which are seldom, if ever, taken by fishermen in Saanich Inlet. I have never seen any other species of salmon in Goldstream than chums. The spring and coho salmon taken in Saanich Inlet are generally believed to have been hatched in the Cowichan and other waters. The inlet is apparently a great rearing ground for both spring and coho salmon. Many of the adults taken there are believed to have spent their entire life in the inlet.

As to spawning in Goldstream, so far as we are advised only chum or dog salmon spawn there. All the spawners die and their bodies are lodged along the edge of the creek or in the water. They attract many gulls, crows and many species of wild animals, which feed upon the carcases. Small fish are known to feed on the carcases and the exposed eggs from the spawning. The birds wade in the shallow water and eat the exposed eggs, and all the small fish in the stream do likewise.

Most authorities hold that in the natural spawning of salmon, only such eggs as become buried beneath the sand and gravel of the bed of the streams, incidental to the spawning efforts of the fish, live to hatch and produce young. In spawning many of the eggs do not become buried, but lie exposed on the bed of the stream. All the exposed eggs are either collected by fish, birds and animals, or are destroyed by fungus — vegetable growth. None of the exposed eggs are believed to survive.

The suggestion that the eggs could be protected by covering the salmon with wire netting cannot be entertained. It would cost many millions of dollars to place wire coverings over the spawning areas of the province, and it would do very little good if it were done. The screen might keep off the birds perhaps, but it would not interfere with the destruction wrought by fish and other aquatic forms.

The only way to increase the stock of salmon in Saanich Inlet or other waters is to permit of a sufficient spawning escapement to increase the ordinary runs to all our streams. It cannot be done in any other way.

JOHN P. BABCOCK.

"TELL ENGLAND"

Sir,—I would like to endorse the various letters of praise which have appeared in your columns in connection with the play, "Tell England," now appearing at the Coliseum. Special arrangements ought to be made so that all young people could see it. While free from American sensationalism and "mush," it is realistic enough to enforce the fact that war is a damnable thing.

APPEAL TO THE CHURCHES

Sir,—World Day for Animals, which is dedicated to the gentle St. Francis of Assisi, falls most opportunely this year upon a Sunday—October 4.

Increasing effort is being made generally to obtain wide recognition of this annual observance, and a special appeal is made to the clergy of all denominations and to all leaders of thought to assist in this work.

We are invited to do three very simple things: To speak; to think; to act on behalf of suffering animals on this day. By so doing we shall, by concentrating our thoughts upon improving the lot of the sub-human race, give an impetus to this movement.

We ask sympathy for that suffering which is too often inflicted by man upon those whom he should be strong to save. When the circle of our sympathy is enlarged to include all who live and suffer, we shall feel that St. Francis walks again and that we are carrying out the loving teachings of those who preceded him upon this earth.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

WITH NO REGRETS

Leave them alone,
  The days now dead;
The dreams now flown,
  The words now said.

For never through
  All time will they
Come back anew,
  Not dream, nor day.

Leave them, and know
  So it must be;
All rivers flow
  Unto the sea.

You can not one
  Small word recall;
The past is done,
  Then leave it all.

Ah, who would sigh
  That the sun sets!
Then say good-bye
  With no regrets!

Daughter—So you don't like Jim?

Father—No; he appears capable of nothing.

"Well, what objection have you to George?"

"Oh, he's worse than Jim! He strikes me as being capable of anything!"

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist, September 24, 1881)

The Fire Companies—The Chief Justice's decision yesterday appears to make it competent for the Tiger and Deluge companies to fill up their ranks to the fullest extent admissible, and the new members so elected will have the right to exercise their franchise at the forthcoming election of chief and assistant engineers.

The Flour Mill—The city flouring mill is now running on Victoria district wheat. Much of it is of good quality, and makes excellent flour.

Caught on Board—Guilty of stealing blankets and other belongings from a fellow workman at McNemee & Co.'s brickyard, Mathew Basset was arrested by Constable Hough as he tried to board the steamship Dakota last night. The thief, having sold his spoils, was trying to escape to the Sound.

American Residents—The American residents will meet at the United States Consulate office at 4 o'clock.

BLONDE STAR IN FIRST 1931 FILM

"Gold Dust Gertie," at Capitol, Winnie Lightner's Opening Production of This Year

"Gold Dust Gertie," the Warner Brothers' comedy, now at the Capitol Theatre, was the first picture made by Winnie Lightner during what she refers to as her lucky year.

It is generally known that Winnie is a fortune-telling fan. Never a week goes by but that she puts her trust in some new seer who professes to be able to foretell the future. All of those consulted agreed that 1931 was the Winnie's big year.

"I haven't done so poorly up to now," said Miss Lightner, when she returned to Hollywood from a New York visit and a personal appearance tour to start work on "Gold Dust Gertie," "so that must mean this year is to be my best!"

"Gold Dust Gertie," the noted comedienne, is paired with Olsen and Johnson, comics of stage and screen. Lloyd Bacon directed.

DOMINION THEATRE All the way from Vienna, his beloved home, which he has immortalized in music, Oscar Straus journeyed to New York to personally supervise and compose the music for Maurice Chevalier's rollicking romance, "The Smiling Lieutenant." Five original Straus compositions are heard in the Chevalier picture, which features the programme at the Dominion Theatre.

COLISEUM THEATRE England's most distinguished actress, Fay Compton, made her British talkie debut in "Tell England," the film which tells of youth's gallantry and sacrifice on the Gallipoli front. This event is the more significant to filmgoers because after such silent screen successes as those she made in "A Bill of Divorcement," "This Freedom" and "Somehow Good."

PLENTY OF ACTION IN COLUMBIA FILM

A novel, unique plot, sustained suspense and superb characterization. All the ingredients of a good play—and it's a good play—well acted, excellently directed—that's "Subway Express," Columbia's latest all-talking feature which opens today at the Columbia Theatre.

Every bit of the action—and there's plenty of it—takes place in the crowded coach of a New York subway train. There's a pushing, mauling crowd, a fight, a shot, and a man is murdered.

A medical examiner discovers that the victim's death was caused by electrocution—not by a bullet. Complications crowd one upon another until a satisfying and totally unexpected ending is reached.

PLAYHOUSE FILM IS COLORFUL ROMANCE

Fiery emotions running the whole gamut of human experience are revealed by Elissa Landi in her second Fox triumph, "Always Goodbye," which opens today at the Playhouse Theatre where it is booked for a three days' run.

Miss Landi's portrayal of the wondrous-wise, charming, glamorous woman-of-the-world heroine in the film is by far a more finished mature piece of emotional work than she gave in her first American film, "Body and Soul," which brought her to the favorable attention of national critics.

Lewis Stone and Paul Cavanagh are seen in chief support of Miss Landi, the star with a cast that includes such noted players as John Garrick, Frederick Kerr and many others.

"THE VINEGAR TREE" TO SHOW NEXT WEEK

At the Victoria next Monday and Tuesday nights Belasco and Curran will present charming Billie Burke in "The Vinegar Tree," a comedy credited with a season's run in New York. In "The Vinegar Tree," Miss Burke has the role of Laura Merrick, a wife, who, in imagination, at least, steps beyond the bounds of her own home for her romantic meanderings. So hungry is she for romance that she even imagines love affairs for herself. And as her husband is a rather senile, practical sort of a fellow, it can readily be imagined what complications arise from the situations that develop. Many of them are extremely ludicrous. And the ingratiating Burke personality glitters through three acts of delicious fun.

TALENTED ACTORS TO APPEAR AT PLAYHOUSE

Coming with the G. Donald Gray stock company to the Playhouse Theatre next Monday evening in "The Isle o' Dreams" is a talented group of actors and actresses, all of whom have won fame in the various cities in which they have been playing. As is usual with members of stock companies, they possess a roving nature and this year their eyes have fallen on Victoria in which to play for the Winter. Victoria is to benefit from this and every week the Playhouse will present some light drama or comedy.

POPULAR COMEDIANS IN "CRACKED NUTS"

Ten acres of Radio Pictures' ranch were turned into fair grounds for "Cracked Nuts," the lavishly produced comedy featuring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, showing at the Coliseum Theatre, Saturday.

Merry-go-rounds, lemonade and hot dog stands, fortune-telling booths, medicine shows, hawkers, snake charmers and all the elements of a county fair were reproduced in perfect detail under the supervision of Max Ree, art director.

The set is typical of the fifteen others which make "Cracked Nuts" not only one of the funniest Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey vehicles, but a picture that will compare with any in the magnitude of its settings.

AMUSEMENTS

ARTIST HAD TRAINING AT MUSIC FESTIVALS

Ethel Codd Luening, coloratura soprano, is a brilliant example of the great cultural service rendered by the musical festivals. This talented and charming singer, until she reached her sixteenth year, had little idea of the beautiful voice she possessed. From the first time she took the honors in the Saskatchewan Musical Festival, her rise to fame was rapid; and within two years of the time she left the West to accept her scholarship in Rochester. It is a great joy for Miss Luening to return to the Northwest, the scenes of her childhood days, in Saskatchewan, Vancouver and Victoria. In addition to a number of classical numbers, in which she will be accompanied by Otto Luening, celebrated flautist, she will sing such popular songs as "Under the "Greenwood Tree," "Spinning Song," and the "Christ Child's Lullaby."

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If September 24 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., and from 8:05 p.m. to 10:10 p.m. The danger hours are from 11 a.m. to 12:50 p.m., and from 5 p.m. to 7:15 p.m.

Unexpected turns in the current of events will be productive of many surprises on September 24, according to astrological indications. Professional people will take a step forward; employees will secure advancements. In each instance the good fortune will come unexpectedly and suddenly.

A child born on this September 24 will have a difficult nature and an awkward temperament. It will not make advances, and will receive the advances of others with indifference. If, however, the outer shell should be penetrated, there will be discovered a kernel of constancy, truth and sincerity, capable of an enduring and abiding love.

You, if born on September 24, consider yourself strong-willed and determined. Those who know you will, however, consider you stubborn and obstinate. That you are self-assertive, no one attempts to deny. You form opinions quickly, and advance them in a most positive manner, even though you may not be so well-informed as the victims of your "say-so." You do not possess a judicial mind, and your vision is "one-track." This attitude is a serious handicap and militates against that success which you ambition for yourself.

Self-analysis, conducted on honest principes, will convince you that you are not always right. As it is, when failure overtakes you, others are blamed, it is not your fault. You are altogether too "cocksure" of yourself. A little more mental modesty would do you a lot of good.

You possess, this cannot be gainsaid, many natural abilities. These enable you to grasp the essentials and discard the "unnecessaries" of a problem. They do not save you at all times from error. You are very pronounced in your likes and dislikes. When you like people you will do anything for them, but when you dislike people, you will do anything to them. Your horoscope denotes many "ups and downs" with sustained success in middle age.

CHINESE WOMAN FREED

Obituary

SHEEPWAY—Funeral services for Mrs. Charlotte Agnes Sheepway, of 1047 Lodge Avenue, Saanich, who passed away in this city on Monday, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the parlors of the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. O. L. Jull will officiate, and interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

BUTLER—Proceeding from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 8 o'clock this morning, the remains of Virginie Jacqueline Butler, who passed away on Saturday, will be taken to her home in Keating. At 9:30 o'clock the cortege will leave her home and proceed to the Church of the Assumption, where Mass will be celebrated by Rev. Father Sheelan. Interment will take place in the churchyard.

FRASER—The death occurred on Saturday, in Los Angeles, of Jean Fraser, wife of Alex Fraser, of that city, at the age of twenty-four years. Born in the Province of Alberta, Mrs. Fraser was the youngest daughter of James R. Cameron and the late Mrs. Cameron, recently of Vegreville. Besides her husband she is survived by infant twin daughters, her father, one sister, Mrs. E. F. Barnes, of Victoria, and six brothers. The remains arrived in the city yesterday morning, and are reposing at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where service will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

LARSEN — The death occurred yesterday morning, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Johnstone, 2639 Prior Street, Victoria, of Mrs. Helen Larsen, widow of Gustave Larsen, at the age of seventy-eight years. Mrs. Larsen came to Canada fifty years ago, and had been a resident in the Province of British Columbia for the past forty-seven years. She is survived by one brother, William A. Rivers; two daughters, Mrs. S. Berrow and Mrs. J. Johnstone, and five grandchildren, all of Victoria. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Interment will be made in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

GRIFFITHS — The funeral of Thomas S. Griffiths, Regina, who passed away at Victoria on Monday, took place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. Canon Nunns officiating. Two hymns, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Rock of Ages," were sung. Many beautiful flowers were sent by friends and associates of the deceased. Interment was made at Royal Oak Burial Park, the following acting as pallbearers: Stephen Carter, representing the Knights of Pythias; J. Rideout, A. W. White, R. J. Jones, George Beach and Captain D. J. Butler.

CHEFS CATER TO VARIOUS TASTES

Wide Range of Food Items Necessary in Provisioning Ships on Transpacific Run

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Frenchmen long have been regarded as the world's epicures, but it is doubtful if they are more accomplished gourmets than high-caste Chinese, says W. J. Myiett, former steward of the Chateau Frontenac and other Canadian Pacific Hotels, and now catering superintendent of the Canadian Pacific steamships here.

Among the 656 different items of food carried on the Empress liners between this port and the Far East are such succulent morsels as bird's-nest soup, with bird's nests at $20 the pound; snails, sharks' fins, turtles, partridges, pheasants and hearts of palm, Mr. Myiett told the transportation bureau of the Board of Trade today.

Catering to Chinese, Japanese, Europeans, Americans, Hindus and Indians of various creeds and castes, Filipinos and other Orientals calls for a wide variety of menus cooked, in some cases, to suit every religious belief from Mohammedanism to those of the Jews and Moslems.

The Empress of Japan, largest and newest of the Pacific Empresses, the catering superintendent said, carries about 350 tons of provisions on voyages between here and the Far East to feed 1,500 passengers and a crew of 600, meals being served eight times a day.

DAIRYMEN TO MEET

A meeting of the Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Royal Oak Hall. It is urgently requested that all farm and dairymen of the district attend.

WILL APPOINT FEDERAL AGENT

Senator Robertson Announces Preference in Employment for Veterans

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Appointment of a Federal representative in British Columbia to co-operate with the Dominion employment service and the Provincial Government in directing placing of men on road projects under employment relief programmes will be made by Hon. Gideon Robertson before he leaves Vancouver, the minister announced tonight.

The Federal representative will assume office by October 1, Senator Robertson added.

Senator Robertson explained that this procedure will be carried in all provinces inasmuch as both Federal and Provincial Governments are jointly concerned in the costs of these projects. The British Columbia Government is entirely in accord with this decision.

RETURNED MEN

"The Federal representative will be instructed to co-operate fully with the policies already laid down. He will be instructed to insure that opportunity for employment is offered to returned unemployed men in order that a minimum of at least 10 per cent of this class are engaged in each project. Within this proportion returned men will be given preference."

Senator Robertson announced also that the Federal Government had authorized work to be carried out in national parks as direct unemployment relief measures.

Works recommended for these national parks, to be undertaken at once, will give employment to 1,920 men in the four Western provinces. Of these men 840 will be selected from those living in or adjacent to park areas and who regularly depend upon employment in these parks.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

OVERUSE OF ROUGH FOODS

Just a few years ago research men discovered that we were eating too much refined food. This meant that the lining of the large intestine, which holds and carries away the wastes from the food, was not getting enough bulky rough waste. This meant further, that as the lining of the large intestine was not being irritated by coarse fibres or rough waste, that its muscular walls were not being stimulated enough to push waste material downwards and out of the body.

Naturally it was recommended that more rough food be eaten, and the results following the use of a little coarse food daily have been very gatifying.

However, just like everything else, it is possible to get "too much of a good thing," and rough, coarse food is being eaten too often by many people, and there are many people who should not eat any coarse food.

Dr. W. C. Alvarez, Mayo clinic, who has done a great amount of research work on the intestine, states that a study of the replies of 470 physicians to a questionnaire in regard to the advantages of using bran and roughage has shown clearly that the physicians of the country are not enthusiastic about the use of rough foods. They admit that they relieve a certain number of patients with constipation.

Most of the physicians report having seen indigestion and flatulence (gas) caused by the use of bran and other rough foods. In fact they think the propaganda for the addition of roughage to the diet has been more harmful than beneficial, and condemn the practice of school nurses and others who prescribe the same rough diet for every one and who offer prizes for the child who can eat the most spinach.

Now what about this?

I believe every physician, the above 470 included, still believe that a little roughage is necessary to the diet of civilized man, because he has the same length and type of intestine as that of the man of thousands of years ago. He should therefore eat a little rough food—bran, or raw cabbage, or lettuce, or celery or coverings of potatoes, apples or other fruits every day. They give bulk and roughness to the waste and this stimulates the intestine.

But to take these at every meal is not only going to cause indigestion, but may set up a serious irritation of the lining of the large intestine-colitis.

ROBERT HALL SENT UP FOR COURT TRIAL

Driver Charged With Manslaughter Committed After Preliminary Hearing

CHILD WAS FATALLY HURT BY AUTOMOBILE

Robert D. Hall, accountant, of Trail, B.C., was yesterday morning committed for trial by Police Magistrate George Jay, following preliminary hearing in the city police court, on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of three-and-a-half-year-old Lloyd Edgelow.

The child was fatally injured on Cook Street, near Collinson Street, on September 15, when struck by an auto alleged to have been driven by Mr. Hall. Imediately following his committal, Mr. Hall was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000.

Only six witnesses were called by the prosecution, which was conducted by City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison. Mr. Hall was represented by W. H. Bullock-Webster.

SAW ACCIDENT

Mrs. Katherine Fairbairn, 1025½ Fort Street, testified she had seen the child run across Cook Street in front of her car as she was proceeding south and ran directly in front of Mr. Hall's car, which was traveling north. The boy was knocked down by the impact, but witness did not think the wheels passed over him. Mrs. Fairbairn said she stopped her car and went over to the point of accident. She estimated the speed of Mr. Hall's auto at about twenty miles an hour. Her car and that of the accused were the only two on that section of the street at the time, she said.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Bullock-Webster, Mrs. Fairbairn stated the boy appeared to have run straight across the roadway. Asked if she thought Mr. Hall could have avoided an accident, she said she did not think so. Neither did she think that Mr. Hall was guilty of any negligence.

CHILD IN ROADWAY

Norman D'Arcy, 77 Moss Street, who was one of the passengers in Mr. Hall's car, gave evidence, in which he said the car was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed, possibly fifteen to eighteen miles an hour. As the car was crossing Collinson Street he saw a child almost in the middle of the road. Thinking that Mr. Hall had also seen the child, witness did not say anything until a moment later when he spoke to Mr. Hall. Mr. Hall swerved the auto to one side, but not in time to avoid striking the child. On a question from Mr. Harrison the witness stated that they were not talking while driving. On cross-examination, the witness said he had always found Mr. Hall a careful driver and did not think he could have done anything at the time to avoid the accident.

Geoffrey D'Arcy, brother of the previous witness, who was also a passenger in Mr. Hall's car, also stated he had seen the child in the centre of the street, and had spoken to Mr. Hall at the same time as his brother had. When he got out of the auto, the child was lying at the rear of the car and near the left wheel.

MATTER OF SECONDS

Mr. Harrison asked if Mr. Hall had seen the child at the same time as the witness, could he have avoided striking him? Mr. D'Arcy said there was a possibility Mr. Hall could have. Witness said it was only a matter of seconds from the time Mr. Hall saw the child until the accident had occurred.

Constable John Blackstock testified he was called to the accident about 5:55 o'clock in the afternoon and took measurements of the vicinity. He said measurements were taken from a chalk mark in the roadway ten feet and one inch from the east curb of Cook Street, and thirty feet, ten inches north of the curb line at Collinson Street. Mr. Hall's car, the witness stated, was then about thirty-nine feet and six inches north of Collinson Street.

Dr. D. M. Baillie gave testimony concerning the child's injuries, and Cyril Jones, of the city engineer's office, submitted a plan of the intersection of Cook and Collinson Streets.

ASKS FOR DISMISSAL

After the case for the prosecution had been completed, Mr. Bullock-Webster moved for a dismissal on the grounds that the Crown had not produced sufficient evidence to warrant a committal for trial. He mentioned that the street on which the accident happened was not one on which pedestrians would be expected, and that Crown witnesses had testified that the accident could not have been avoided.

Mr. Harrison argued that the street was a wide one and that the child had almost traversed its entire width before being struck, and intimated the accused should have seen it just as Mrs. Fairbairn had. Magistrate Jay said he considered the case was one that should go to a higher court. Defence was reserved.

The Veterans' Corner

The Canadian Pensioners' Association will hold its monthly meeting on Friday, at the clubrooms, 225 Pemberton Building, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend as matters of great importance pertaining to the association will be discussed.

USUAL DIVIDENDS DECLARED

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Directors of the Steel Company of Canada, at a meeting here today, declared the regular quarterly dividends on the preferred and common shares of the company. Both dividends are payable on November 2 to shareholders of record October 2.

City and District

Holidaying on Island—Carl Brazier, managing editor of The Seattle Times, and his wife, are spending a holiday on Vancouver Island.

Appointed Stipendiary—Frederick W. Towler, of Tofino, was appointed stipendiary magistrate in and for the County of Nanaimo yesterday, by order-in-council.

Man Sought—The city detective department has been asked to locate William Martin Yates, who is believed to be a resident either of Victoria or Vancouver. It is reported that his father is very ill in Toronto.

Secure Saltery Licences—Salmon dry saltery licences were issued by the Government yesterday to the Moresby Island Fisheries, Ltd., and to S. Sato. The Tahsis Packing Company was granted a licence for the dry-salting of herring.

In Provincial Court—John W. Knight was fined $15 in the Provincial police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of driving to the common danger on the Island Highway between Colwood and Langford.

Secretary to Speak—Rev. D. R. McLean, general secretary of the Religious Education Council, will be the guest speaker at the Y.M.C.A. next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. All mentors and teachers of boys' Sunday school classes are invited to attend.

Hotel Man Here—Adolph Schmidt, of Seattle, accompanied by his wife, was at the Empress Hotel yesterday. Mr. Schmidt is interested in the Western Hotels Incorporated, which owns a large number of houses through the Western States and Canada.

Building New Store—H. O. Kirkham will construct a new store building at the corner of Estevan Avenue and Musgrave Road, in Oak Bay. A permit for construction has been issued and work will commence immediately. The building will be of stucco and will cost $6,000.

Pays Bond Interest—The British Columbia Worsted Mills, a Victoria industry, yesterday paid into the city treasury the half year's interest on its bond issue. The bonds of the company are guaranteed by the City of Victoria, and the amount for the six months' interest totaled $3,125.

Case Remanded—The trial of Grace Davis, colored, on a charge of selling liquor, was yesterday remanded in the Provincial police court until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The accused was arrested following a raid on the Chanticleer Inn on the Island Highway on September 13.

Requisition Approved—The secretary of the city school board at a meeting of the trustees last night was instructed to purchase the necessary music for use by students preparing for the annual musical festival. Material for making maypoles for the folk dancing classes was also ordered.

Rossland Delegation—Introduced by J. H. Schofield, veteran member for Rossland-Trail in the Provincial Legislature, a delegation of Rossland civic officials waited on the Provincial Government yesterday in connection with work proposals in that area. Mayor Turner spoke on behalf of the municipality.

Increased Registration—With the exception of the laboratory classes, all science classes, as well as other departments of Victoria College, are now in full operation. Additional registrations since the opening day have brought the total attendance up to 272, which is seventeen students more than last year, seven in the second year and ten in the first.

Car Without Accessories—Peter Low, Chinese youth, was fined $20 in city police court yesterday by Police Magistrate George Jay for failing to have his car equipped with a rear mirror, a windshield wiper and for reversing direction in the middle of a block on Blanshard Street. The youth pleaded guilty to all three charges.

Opens Armstrong Fair—Premier Tolmie attended the Interior Provincial Fair at Armstrong yesterday in connection with opening ceremonies. An excellent display of exhibits is assembled for the exhibition, which will last for four days this week. Premier Tolmie is expected back in the city towards the end of the week.

Chinese Fined $50—Chong Kong was fined $50 in the Provincial police court yesterday on a charge of driving to the common danger. Magistrate George Jay drew attention to the fact that the Island Highway at the point where the accused was stopped by police was dangerous and that in his opinion Chong had been driving recklessly.

Works Commitee—Matters pertaining to public works to be carried out in the Winter programme of unemployed relief were discussed at a meeting of the works commitee of the Saanich council last night. No decisions were made, Reeve William Crouch announced following the meeting. The programme, it is expected, will cost approximately $125,000.

Appointment Renewed—Absence of Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, who was in Vancouver yesterday in connection with the visit of Senator Gideon Robertson, led to postponement of an appointment previously given members of the Victoria Ministerial Association, who desired to send a delegation to interview the minister. Mr. Bruhn is expected back in the city today.

Newsboys Warned—Newspaper carriers yesterday were asked by Chief of Police Thomas Heatley to co-operate in the police campaign for safety on Victoria streets. He urged all newsboys to observe the rules respecting riding on sidewalks and those applying to forward and rear lights. Sergeant Arthur Bishop accompanied the chief on his visit to the carrier boys' rooms at The Colonist and Times newspapers.

Apartment House Sold—Among recent realty deals consumated in the city is the sale of the Bon Accord Apartments at 845 Princess Street. The new owner is J. E. Hammond, who also owns The Gables, at the corner of Fort Street and Linden Avenue. The Bon Accord was formerly owned by Mrs. S. Wright. The transaction was put through by Rosevear & Gordon, real estate dealers.

Poetess Changes Name—Miss Mabel Rowbotham, of Chemainus, poetess and writer, succeeded in Supreme Court here yesterday in her application to change her name to that of Zura de Valdes. Miss Kathleen Burt-Smith, 1147 Newport Avenue, was the official witness on the application, which was presented by J. B. Clearihue, of Clearihue & Straith. Miss Rowbotham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rowbotham, of Oldham, England.

Member Visiting City—From North Okanagan, where farmers are busy about their own immediate affairs, George Heggie, the genial new member for the riding, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Heggie, whose maiden speech in the Provincial Legislature last session marked him as a stout champion for up-country farming areas, is taking up matters in connection with his riding with officials of the Public Works Department. Fruitgrowers in the area, he said, were facing the future with confidence.

Real Estate Sales—Two fairly large parcels of land have been purchased by out-of-town clients who purpose to make their permanent residence here. Lieutenant-Colonel W. C. Bryan, retired officer of the Alberta Provincial Police, has acquired a block of three and a half acres of land on Wilkinson Road, together with a house, for $8,000. The former owner was H. M. Shibley. Colonel G. B. Scott, of Dublin, Ireland, also has purchased seven acres of land and a house from Mr. Shibley.

Rotary Programme—The Victoria Rotary Club will hold a 100 per cent meeting today at its luncheon at 12:10 p.m. in the Empress Hotel, when the entire membership is expected to be present. A reading will be given by students of the B.C. Dramatic School of "The Secret Garden," dramatizd by Major Bullock-Webster from Frances Hodgson Burnett's novel. A party of Rotarians and their ladies will visit the Rotary Club of Sequim, Washington, on Wednesday, September 30.

Represents Theatres—J. J. Fitzgibbons, of Toronto, president of the Famous Players Corporation, which operates a large string of theatres across the Dominion, including the Dominion in Victoria, was in the city yesterday. He is on a tour of inspection and remained only yesterday in Victoria. He was accompanied by J. R. Muir, of Vancouver, the provincial representative of the theatrical organization, and by R. Rowe Holland, who represents the British Columbia theatrical organization as solicitor.

Regimental Smoker—Marking the opening of the 1931-32 drill season, the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment will hold a smoker at the Bay Street Armories on October 1, commencing at 9 o'clock. The entertainment will be open to all members of the regiment and their friends. Musical turns will be a feature of the evening, and judging by the success of previous years, this annual event will be attended by practically every man of the regiment, together with many visitors.

Evidence Taken—Further prosecution evidence was taken in the case of A. W. Alexander, colored, who was charged in Provincial police court yesterday with keeping liquor for sale. He was arrested in a raid on the Chanticleer Inn on September 13. Constables Alfred Carmichael, J. F. French, Archibald E. McGillivray and G. W. Donaldson gave evidence that they had found quantities of liquor about the Chanticleer Inn when they raided the place. After their testimony had been taken, the case was remanded until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Victoria Well Advertised—Congratulating Victoria and Vancouver Island on the admirable way in which the attractions of this section were being made known throughout the country, B. C. Taylor, general passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Railway at Portland, who is a visitor to the city, stated that the publicity obtained was invaluable. Mr. Taylor paid George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, a high compliment, stating that he was looking after the interests of Victoria and the Island particularly well. Mr. Taylor instanced the great benefits resulting from the Los Angeles policy of advertising. He felt that the tourist business to Vancouver Island could be built up and developed in the same way, with as equally good results.

DR. LEWIS SMITH IS VISITING ON ISLAND

Dr. Lewis Smith, of London, Eng., is a visitor in Victoria enjoying his favorite pastime of fishing. Dr. Smith is famous as an angler and is identified with a number of sport fishing clubs and organizations in the Old Land.

Dr. Smith has just returned from Campbell River, where he periodically enjoys fishing. Before leaving here he will visit Cowichan Lake. He is somewhat of an authority on the propagation and perpetuation of sporting fish and he may address a meeting before he leaves, on what should be done to maintain fishing on the Island and to improve it.

She—You know, Jack, there's something about you I like."

He—Oh, yes! And what are you going to do when I've spent it?"

London Chamber Favors Tariffs

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP).—The London Chamber of Commerce informed Premier Ramsay MacDonald today that its members, by a vote of 4,106 to 341, had expressed themselves in favor of the imposition of tariffs. The vote was a tabulation of replies to a questionnaire.

"This chamber is convinced," the letter to Mr. MacDonald said, "that an immediate tariff is essential, that by this step alone can the confidence of the business community be restored and the currency be re-established on a stable basis."

Perse: "Rather! Some fellows, you know, when you go to see them, would let you die of thirst!"

Officers of W.C.T.U. Elected

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Election of officers at the W.C.T.U. convention in Olivet Baptist Church, New Westminster, today was as follows: President, Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, of Vancouver, re-elected; first vice-president, Mrs. Rex Eaton, of Vancouver; second vice-president, Mrs. Arnott, of Okanagan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. J. McWilliams, Central Park; recording secretary, Mrs. T. H. Wright, Vancouver; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Yap, Burnaby.

MORNING SESSION

The forty-eighth annual convention of the Provincial W.C.T.U. opened here on Tuesday, with the president, Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, in the chair. The corresponding secretary's report, given by Mrs. G. N. Lanning, showed that special activities had been carried on throughout the province during the past year. Essay contests had been held in public schools, and local hospitals had been assisted. One new union, the Jubilee, had been formed, organized by the president, and Mount Pleasant union was first in the list for raising funds, the amount being $287.

AFTERNOON MEETING

At the afternoon session, the president's address gave a partial report on the plan of work, and an educational half-hour discussion was led by Mrs. J. A. Lade, who also presented a statement for the L.T.L. department. In the evening a grand gold medal contest was held.

Departmental reports were presented by conveners. The report of the plan of work committee was given, followed by that of the jubilee committee, and of the world convention by Mrs. J. A. Gillespie. The speaker was Rev. R. J. McIntyre.

GEORGE GORDON IS AGAIN NAMED HEAD OF YOUNG PEOPLE

High enthusiasm marked the opening business meeting of the year of the First United Y.P.S., held on Monday, when various reports of the year's activities were given and the election of officers took place.

The officers elected were: Honorary president, Dr. W. G. Wilson; leader, Rev. Bruce Gray; president, George Gordon (re-elected); first vice-president, Archie Millar; second vice-president, Nina Joyce; treasurer, Winnie Robb; assistant treasurer, Ken Simpson; secretary, Dorothy Ashman; corresponding secretary, Georgina McKay; literary department, Muriel Hoy, Lawrence Wallace, Mae Innes; The Quest, Lawrence Wallace; Christian Fellowship, Dorothy Morton, John Gough; membership, Mabel Marshall, Bryce Blake, Alice Mellor; music, Jack Smith, Kathleen Irvine, Pat Campbell; nurses in training, Miss Rossiter; Normal School (to be appointed); social, Annie Gough, Al Wetherall, Evelyn Hill; recreation, Herbert Warren, Mildred Margison, James Robson; tennis representative, William Erith; scribe, Gordon Robson; mimeo department, Gordon Crouch, Winnie Robb.

Glimpses of the year's work were given by Miss Muriel Hoy, representing the literary committee; Gordon Robson, tennis committee; Olive Heritage for the Christian Fellowship committee; Archie Millar on behalf of the recreation committee; and Miss Dorothy Morton, convener of music.

Plans for the future were outlined by Rev. Bruce Gray, who stressed the fourfold aspects of the programme and urged upon the members to participate in the Bible study groups on Sunday and the literary and social features provided during the week.

It was announced that on Monday, September 28, the new officers will be installed and tennis trophies will be presented by the donors. A one-hour social programme will be directed by Herbert Warren and Gordon Robson.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

LANGFORD

The regular monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Smith, Langford Lake, with Mrs. Malcolm presiding. Miss Savory was elected official delegate to the conference to be held October 14 and 15 in the Parliament Buildings; Mrs. J. E. Macdonald and Mrs. P. Welch as institute delegates. Members who wish to help with the "jam shower" for the Solarium were asked to leave their contributions at the home of the secretary before September 30. It was decided to commence a series of card parties early in October and to hold a silver tea in the Institute Hall on Wednesday, September 30, in aid of the workroom for unemployed women, a project sponsored by the women's organizations of Victoria. An invitation has also been received to attend a tea held on Tuesday, September 29, at Spencer's tearoom by the Local Council of Women in aid of this object. Miss Savory was elected convener of the social committee, with Mrs. J. E. Macdonald and Mrs. Ritchie members of the committee. Mrs. J. D. Gordon gave an address on "Institute Work and Methods." At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was passed to the speaker, after which Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown served tea.

STRAWBERRY VALE

There was a large attendance at the first card party of the season which was held in the Institute Hall, Wilkinson Road, nine tables being in play. The committee in charge has decided to give scrip prizes at all these games. The following were successful prize-winners: First lady, Mrs. Fox; first gentleman, Mr. Gardner; second lady, Mrs. Humphries; second gentleman, Mr. T. Francis; consolation, Mrs. Gilham and Mr. T. Neligan. Refreshments were served at the close of the games by the conveners, Mrs. Huntington and Mrs. Humphries. The next card party will be held on Monday, October 5.

Stumpy Loses Patience

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

E'en patience sorely tried may lead
To temper lost and angry deed.
—Old Mother Nature.

Trader the Wood Rat was having the time of his life. Each night he visited the old cabin where Farmer Brown's Boy and Stumpy was staying, and was very busy. In the morning the first thing Farmer Brown's Boy did was to look to see what Trader had been doing. One morning he found a pocket in his coat filled with bits of bark, and another morning when Stumpy went to pull on a boot he found it half filled with small, empty cones. But when Farmer Brown's Boy went to put his trousers on and found the buttons all neatly cut off and nowhere to be found, he decided that Trader was getting the best of the trading.

Each night he visited the old cabin where Farmer Brown's Boy and Stumpy were staying

There was no time to hunt for the missing buttons that morning, as an all-day trip had been planned. The buttons were not necessary anyway, for he had a belt. It was late in the afternoon when they returned, tired and hungry. Stumpy hustled about getting dinner.

"Where did you put the spoons?" he asked.

"In a cup on the table," replied Farmer Brown's Boy.

Then Stumpy exploded. "They're gone," said he. "So are the forks. That dratted Rat has been busy while we have been away. A joke may be a joke, but I like it best when it is on the other fellow. Come on."

"Where are you going?" asked Farmer Brown's Boy, still not quite sensing Stumpy's remarks.

"To get them spoons and forks and buttons and anything else we've lost but ain't missed yet," replied Stumpy grimly.

He led the way to Trader's collection of odds and ends and began to tear apart the big heap. He tossed the stuff right and left, for he had quite lost his temper. A spoon was the first thing found. Then another spoon and the forks. Stumpy grunted each time a bit of their property was recovered. The pebbles and shells were all there. Then Farmer Brown's Boy saw something shining off at one side and went to see what it was.

"What do you know about this?" he exclaimed. "Here is my pocket knife and I hadn't missed it! That scamp must have taken it out of my pocket."

"If that is all he took you are lucky," grumbled Stumpy. "Better look in that rusty old can and see what is in that."

Farmer Brown's Boy did so and laughed aloud. "My missing buttons!" he cried. "And here is a dime and a two-bit piece that look as if they have been here for ages."

By a two-bit piece he meant a quarter of a dollar. "Probably took 'em from the last party that stayed in the cabin," growled Stumpy digging deeper into the treasure heap. "Here's a strap with a buckle on it, and here's—by gum! If it ain't a pocket piece I lost more'n a year ago. Always did wonder what became of it."

He held up a much tarnished Mexican silver dollar with a hole in it. "Carried that thing for years just for luck," he explained. "Remember now that I stayed overnight in this here cabin over a year ago and missed this thing the next day. Thought I must have pulled it out of my pocket without knowing it and dropped it. Well, Mr. Packrat, I reckon finding this pays for the trouble you done made us. Guess there's nothin' more of value here, and dinner is getting cold."

With their recovered property, they returned to the cabin. After dinner Stumpy repaired the door and then stopped up all the holes. "Reckon it's time to put an end to tradin'," he explained grimly."

But Farmer Brown's Boy couldn't help but having a feeling of sympathy for Trader when he should discover how his treasure heap had been scattered. And he chuckled as he thought of the funny things that had happened because a little fellow in fur had just had to trade.

Donations Received at Orphanage

The annual appeal for donations for the pound party at the B.C. Protestant Orphans' Home met with ready and most generous response yesterday afternoon, when a large number of callers were welcomed and many gifts received. During the afternoon the Victoria Girls' Band played selections on the lawn in front of the home, and the music was greatly appreciated by the guests. Mrs. F. C. Dillabough and Mrs. W. Dinsmore received the parcels of jams, fruits, groceries, linen and other supplies which were brought, and the cash gifts were received by Mrs. E. M. Brown.

Mrs. C. H. Walker, the president, Mrs. R. T. Elliott, Mrs. F. Longstaff and Mrs. Harris, the matron, welcomed the guests upon their arrival, and many who had not already seen the building were given an opportunity of being shown round by Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Coutts, and the assistant matrons, Mrs. Bonner and Mrs. Harkness. The room of greatest interest yesterday was the new nursery which has been redecorated and attractively furnished by the members of the Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.D.E. This room will serve as a playroom for the children who are too young to attend school.

Tea was served in the main dining-room, the tables arranged with pink chrysanthemums and green candles in silver candlesticks. Mrs. A. McKeown and Mrs. W. S. Fraser poured tea, and assisting were Mrs. J. L. Grimison, Mrs. D. C. Hughes, Mrs. Shepherd, Mrs. S. Raper, Mrs. Dorman and Miss Newbury.

Wedding Celebrated at Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, Sept. 23.—A wedding of considerable local interest took place this morning at St. Mary's Church here, when Sarah Margaret, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McNeil, of Roberts Street, became the bride of Dr. A. T. Verchere, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Verchere, of this city. Rev. Father McLellan performed the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of Autumn flowers by Sisters of the Convent of Our Lady of Perpetual Help. The sisters and the choir, under the direction of Sister Genevieve, rendered appropriate and lovely music during the nuptial mass, while Sister Rose Genevieve sang two solos.

CHARMING BRIDE

The bride looked charming in a gown of imported white French crepe, made with short jackette and closely fitted hipline, from which the skirt fell in long graceful folds to the tips of her white moire slippers. Her large hat was of white mohair banded with chiffon velvet, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Madeline McNeil, as bridesmaid, wore a frock of orchid chiffon, girdled with a satin ribbon of the same shade, while she wore a large mohair hat to match. She wore also, a string of fine crystals, the gift of the groom, and carried a sheaf of beautiful yellow rosebuds and ferns.

Dr. Laurence Giovando acted as best man, while the ushers were Mr. John McNeil and Dr. A. G. Verchere.

WEDDING BREAKFAST

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast, for immediate relatives and friends, was served at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were received by Mrs. J. J. McNeil and Mrs. A. G. Verchere.

Mrs. McNeil wore a becoming gown of navy blue georgette, over figured satin, while Mrs. Verchere's costume was in mauve and yellow.

The bride and groom left later by motor for a honeymoon tour of Washington and Oregon. The bride traveled in a smart suit of navy and white, with hat and accessories to match. Her traveling coat was of blue, while touches of orange in hat and scarf lent a note of color to her costume.

Money Is Needed For Milk Fund

The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold its annual tag day on Saturday, when an appeal will be made for donations to augment the Milk Supply Fund, which enables undernourished children to receive extra milk supply. Last year the chapter supplied over 28,000 half pints to children needing the milk, and this year the need is even greater. In addition to supplying milk to the schools, the chapter donated $200 to the Sunshine Camp for the purchase of milk for the little ones, provided beds and bedding for a sick child in a needy family and helped a number of other deserving cases. The headquarters for the day will be in the New Thought Temple, Fort Street, where the taggers, who for the greater part are Normal School students, will be supplied with coffee and sandwiches.

HOLD SOCIAL SATURDAY

In an effort to raise funds for the organization, members of the Saanich Branch of the National Unemployed Workers' Association will stage a social and dance on Saturday night in St. Mark's Hall, Boleskine Road, Cloverdale, commencing at 8 o'clock.

EFFORT MADE TO DIRECT RELIEF

Miss Charlotte Whitton Talks on Unemployment Situation—Committee Is Formed Here

A committee has been appointed, consisting of F. E. Winslow, Sir Richard Lake, Very Rev. Dean Quainton, Rev. F. E. Church, Fred Landsberg and Reeve William Crouch, to make an assessment of all local activities and facilities for welfare work. This step is being taken in an effort to co-ordinate and correlate the voluntary and public effort to insure the most effective assistance to the needy.

Miss Charlotte Whitton, of Ottawa, addressed the luncheon meeting of the Social Service League on "Community Organization for Relief and Assistance," prior to the appointment of the committee. Miss Whitton stated that the present unemployment situation, as such, was nothing new, that annually 10 per cent of the population of the country began looking to social welfare agencies during December and January, and that economic conditions were such that many wage earners were unable to provide adequate sustenance to withstand the pressure of abnormal times.

MODERN MACHINERY

Mechanization also reduced the number of employees in industry and agriculture, there being 100,000 less harvesters needed in the West this year owing to the increasing use of modern agricultural machinery, the speaker said.

Miss Whitton quoted these facts to lend point to her claim that the problem of assisting those in need must become the concern of the whole community, and that all private and public sources of relief must bend their united effort; to avoid the disintegration and breakdown of morale and the creation of a pauper class.

POOL ALL RESOURCES

Miss Whitton suggested that the most effective way to meet the present problem of dealing with those who needed assistance was to pool all the resources of voluntary help and assistance and then work it out in relation to public sources of relief. A central welfare service might be organized, bringing into its membership and control every possible agency, including women's organizations, church groups, service clubs, veterans' organizations, fraternal bodies and similar groups. All investigations of cases should come through the central bureau, but each group could carry out assistance along its own particular line. The pool would then work out with the civic authorities the measure of responsibility for the giving of relief.

Dean Quainton, in thanking the speaker, recalled that an attempt had been made to co-ordinate the many welfare organizations in the city, adding that "perhaps under the present pressure of existing conditions, some of us may be prepared to sacrifice some of our pet predilections in a common cause."

DEHYDRATING EXPERIMENTS

VERNON. — Bulmans, Limited, commenced operation of the dehydrator this week. The plant is running to half capacity and the other table will be operated as soon as sufficient McIntosh apples are received to warrant operations. It is expected that this will only be a matter of a short time. Operations began on Wealthies and 90 per cent of the receipts are from local sources. This season a pack of asparagus was put up partly as an experiment. Fifteen tons of spinach has been dried. About a ton each of baby beets and carrots was put up. The cannery is operating on tomatoes and tomato juice, and will operate just as long as possible

BRIDGE TEA

The following further reservations for the bridge party to be held by the Royal Bride Chapter, I.O.D.E., tomorrow, have been received: Mrs. Colin Cummins, Mrs. H. Sharps, Mrs. Aubrey Kent, Mrs. W. Ellis, Mrs. T. Myers, Mrs. F. Mitchell, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell and Mrs. John Robson. Play will begin at 2:30 o'clock and tea guests will be welcomed at 4:30 o'clock. During the tea hour there will be a short musical programme, Mrs. Sydney Oliver will be the soloist and Miss Eileen Dumbleton will play her accompaniments. Miss Maryan Peterson will give a number of Scottish dances. Players are asked to bring their own cards and score cards, etc., and further reservations may be made by telephoning Empire 0555 or Empire 3170.

ASHCROFT POWER PLANT

ASHCROFT. — The Ashcroft Water, Electric and Improvement Co. "cut-in" on its new 400-h.p. hydro-electric Bonaparte power plant on Wednesday night, and the result has proved entirely satisfactory. The new plant is automatic, and beyond supervision of the dam and water flow to the turbine wheel, will require little or no attention, and can thus be operated at a minimum of expense. The old Diesel engine plant on the Thompson River will be used as an auxiliary.

Before making a decision regarding your residence, ask yourself these questions:

1. Are the rates for a room, including 50c breakfast, 50c lunch and $1.00 dinner, as low as $55.00 per month single, or $47.50 per month each person in double room, with first-class hotel service?
2. Are the meals nourishing, well varied and substantial? Is the dining-room open for two-hour periods at each meal? Do you receive free tray service to your room on Sunday morning?
3. Are the rooms properly heated by modern equipment?
4. Are there open fires, spacious lounges, sitting-rooms and sun verandas, etc., for your comfort and the reception of your friends?
5. Are there entertainments, such as bridge, music and dancing?
6. Is your room comfortably furnished? Does it contain hot and cold water and telephone?
7. Is there ample bath accommodation, with an abundance of hot and cold water day and night?
8. Is there an ironing room? Are there garages and free parking grounds?
9. Are daily papers and magazines available for your use? Is stationery and writing material supplied?
10. Is your address to your satisfaction?
11. Are you protected from undesirable guests by a refusal to accept any kind of business at any rate and by insistence on quiet after 11 p.m.?

Check these points carefully. They are your reasonable requirements, and they can be satisfied at

Every Housewife knows Grapes
but how many know the different grades of COFFEE?
EXPERIENCE has taught the housewife to distinguish between grapes . . . to pick out good tomatoes . . . to know whether string beans are fresh and crisp.
But what does she know about coffee?
The coffee expert has had years of experience in selecting coffee beans. He knows that there are three qualities . . . hard, soft and mild. He can tell them as easily as you tell grapes.
He never mistakes the cheap for the higher grades.
Chase & Sanborn experts select only the highest grades of soft and mild coffee, from the world's choicest and costliest beans, blending them especially to suit the Canadian taste.
Malaga . . . Seedless White . . . Hothouse Grapes . . . You can't confuse her about these. She knows the subtlest distinction between them . . . in flavor, texture, skin, seeds.
But do you know that coffees are graded for flavor as "hard," "soft" and "mild"? Hard coffee is cheap, inferior. Soft coffee is mild and mellow. Mild coffee has a rich flavor.
For 50 years Chase & Sanborn's has been roasted and packed for you right here in Canada. During those 50 years it has been Canada's leading coffee. Chase & Sanborn's goes to your grocer by the same delivery system that brings him fresh Fleischmann's Yeast twice a week.
Of course, we pack this superb coffee in vacuum tins to keep it fresh until it reaches you. You will love its rich, full-bodied flavor. Ask for Chase & Sanborn's at your grocer's. In 1 lb. and ½ lb. tins.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Dorothy Alexander Made Initial Call on Winter Schedule

Coastal Liner Sailed South Last Night—Westbound Bookings for Empress Ships Good—Bonneville Repair Job Awarded Today

Making her first call at Victoria, southbound on her new schedule, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Ss. Dorothy Alexander docked at Rithet Piers at 10 o'clock last night from Seattle, and after embarking Mainland and Island passengers and loading cargo, including 837 parcels of manila rope left by the liner Ss. President Cleveland for transhipment to the East Coast, and a sample shipment of Vancouver Island apples for the Dutch East Indies, via San Francisco, the vessel cleared for the South at midnight.

The Dorothy Alexander had a fair list of travelers for the voyage out, a number arriving in the city yesterday from Mainland points. Passengers booked from Victoria included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Brock and daughter, Mrs. C. Johnson, Donald Kirkbride, A. Sneath, Mrs. Arthur Morgan, Miss Jessie McBroome, Mrs. R. S. Wood, Miss Evelyn Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Bell.

EMMA ALEXANDER DUE

Inbound from California ports, the liner Ss. Emma Alexander is due alongside Rithet Piers tonight with passengers and cargo for the port. The Emma Alexander will proceed to Seattle at midnight.

For Orient ports, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Russia will leave Rithet Piers on Saturday afternoon. Indicating that the seasonal westward movement of travel has started, the Russia will have 500 passengers aboard when she clears for Yokohama.

HAS SMALL LIST

Inbound from the Philippine Islands via China and Japan ports, the Ss. Empress of Japan is bringing only a small list of travelers, 360 in all. Her outward booking is already large, and it is expected she will have well over 700 by sailing time.

REPAIRS TO FREIGHTER

While the bids for the repairs to the freighter Bonneville had to be in by 11 o'clock yesterday morning, it was stated yesterday that the figures had to be submitted to the proper authorities for their sanction before the award is made. It is understood that the successful tenderer will be notified some time this morning.

A Federal law to permit states and municipalities to operate free port zones for holding and transhipment of foreign cargo without payment of customs was urged by the Northwest Rivers and Harbors Congress in session at Aberdeen, Washington, last week. Among other resolutions adopted were the advocacy of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the development of the St. Lawrence waterway, and a study of the silver price by an international congress in an effort to re-establish the purchasing power of the Orient.

NEW COMMODORE

Captain "Johnnie" Diggle did not keep the commodoreship of the Cunard Line very long, for he has been caught under the new age limit and has been retired. He is succeeded by Captain Robert Malin, a Liverpool man, who is well known. He joined the company as a junior officer in 1899, and in 1911 got his first command in the shape of the Phrgia, one of the Mediterranean "brigs." The old two-funneled London steamers, the Audania and Ascania were among his early commands. He was then on shore service for a spell, and since 1927 has had the Samaria.

The old Diamond Point Quarantine Station at the entrance to Discovery Bay, that for years has been a landmark for seafarers entering Puget Sound, will be vacated in the near future if the United States Treasury accepts the offer of a new site for a modern station which has been submitted by the Port Townsend Chamber of Commerce. The site which the Chamber of Commerce has proposed is three miles southwest of Port Townsend, near the site of old Fort Townsend.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Dingwall Cotts & Co. has Ss. Golden West at New Westminster today, loading for Australia and New Zealand.

Hon. Walter Guinness' yacht, Ss. Roussalka, is at British Columbia marine yards for engine repairs.

Blue Funnel liner Ss. Protesilaus will be off the floating dock at Burrard Drydock Co. on Thursday. D. M. Cameron, of Dodwell & Co., agent for the line, states the damage and resultant delay of the vessel will not affect her scheduled departure for the Orient. She is booked full with general cargo from Puget Sound and British Columbia.

LOGS AND LUMBER

Empire Shipping Co. reports Ocean Transport Co. Ss. Taigen Maru in port to load full with logs and lumber for Japan. She will sail on October 2. Following her the freighter Ss. Fukko Maru will arrive on October 17, and the second October vessel will reach here on October 25.

Union Steamship Co. of New Zealand freighter Ss. Waiotapu, now in port to Canadian-Australian Line, Ltd., will sail on Saturday via New Westminster, Powell River, Ocean Falls, Union Bay and San Francisco for Wellington, Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide.

The Belgian Line is still in the Pacific Coast trade, with Vancouver as a terminal, officials of the Harvey Shipping Co. said today, in answer to rumors that the company had withdrawn. It is believed the rumor has arisen through the fact that the sailing of the steamer Carier, due September 25, has been canceled. The Belgian ships for October will arrive on schedule, the first being Ss. Kasonga, due here October 8.

TRAVEL FALLING OFF

North German Lloyd Ss. Schwaben, Captain Emil Voght, arrived at 6 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon to Dodwell & Co., with 500 tons of general European cargo. With the early Fall weather coming on, the California tourist traffic by foreign ships to Vancouver is falling off. During Summer the German vessels have been bringing fifteen to forty Californians every trip, but the Schwaben had only three Californians aboard. The ship will load 500 tons of grain and general here.

Coffee from East Africa, spices, fruits and burlap from India, Dutch East Indies and Straits Settlements arrived overnight on the Silver-Java-Pacific Ms. Bintang to Dingwall, Cotts & Co. The African coffee was picked up at Singapore.

Outward cargo for India and other parts of the run will total 500 tons here, and embraces a wide assortment of Canadian manufactured goods.

ON MAIDEN FLIGHT

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 23 (AP).—The navy's new giant dirigible, Akron, took off from its dock here at 3:38 o'clock this afternoon, Eastern standard time, on its maiden flight.

NOVEL CRAFT IS LAUNCHED

Firecrest II, Designed by Sea Hermit, Will Cruise to South Seas

Firecrest II, a ten-ton sloop, was recently launched at Sartouville, on the Seine River, for Alain Gerbault, hermit of the seas, and soon the lone mariner will be away again in his desire to put thousands of miles between himself and civilization. The cruise this time will be to the South Seas, where, on a former occasion, Monsieur Gerbault was received by the natives as a king, and even today possesses a harem, dancing girls and cocoanut grove awaiting his return.

The Firecrest II is a novel boat, especially designed by Monsieur Gerbault for long cruises and is fitted with so few comforts that only a hermit could enjoy travel under the conditions it affords. Its exterior is far more costly and elaborate than its interior.

With a deeper draft than the first Firecrest, the new ship will be better at sea, but will not be able to penetrate the lagoons and ride the reefs as the first boat did. It is built of teak wood, 10.30 metres in length and draws 1.80 metres of water. It is fitted with a four-ton lead keel, providing stability in rough weather.

ONE-MAN CRAFT

Monsieur Gerbault intends to sail the craft himself, and everything is designed for that purpose. The openings below decks are small and easily closed. The metals used are noncorrosive, reducing to a minimum the amount of work to keep the craft in shipshape.

The cockpit is like the opening in an Eskimo canoe, barely two feet across. It is fitted with a flexible covering so that when the seaman sits in the pit he can fit the covering tight up to him and keep his ship dry.

Monsieur Gerbault has guarded the secret of the ship's interior, but it is understood to be spacious. Divided into two cabins, it also furnishes plenty of space for storing water and provisions for fifteen weeks at sea. The sea hermit has never been bothered with a fastidious appetite and the provision lockers are fitted to carry simple canned foods and fruits.

WILL SAIL EAST

Sails are cut after the lines of a sloop, and easily tended by one man. The surface of full sails will be from sixty to eighty square yards. There is a single mast without wireless fittings, for Monsieur Gerbault tries, in his long cruises, to get as far away from civilization as possible. He will test the yacht this Fall and by Winter may start from the Mediterranean on his second lone cruise of the world, starting east this time instead of west.

The first Firecrest has recently been towed to Cherbourg from Le Havre, Monsieur Gerbault having made a gift of it to the French Navy. Its change of ownership will be made the occasion of a ceremony in honor of the lone mariner as soon as it reaches Brest.

Delegates From Coast Pass Through Moncton

MONCTON, Sept. 23.—Vancouver, Victoria and Kamloops delegates were included in a party of thirty-seven people, members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada who passed through Moncton this morning, en route via the Canadian National Railways to Charlottetown, P.E.I., where executive meetings will be held in St. Paul's Church, Parish Hall, on Monday next. The delegates leave Charlottetown for Saint John, N.B., where the annual meeting of the order takes place.

BROUGHT NEW BOEING BOAT

Totem Model, Piloted by Major D. R. MacLaren, Object of Interest

Piloted by Major D. R. MacLaren, a new Totem Model Boeing monoplane boat dropped down into James Bay at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, and made fast to the landing place of Canada Airways in front of the Legislative Buildings, creating considerable interest among the spectators who generally line up along the waterfront about the time scheduled for the arrival of the planes from Vancouver and Seattle.

Pilot MacLaren was accompanied on the flight across the gulf by H. S. Hoffar, of the Hoffar-Beeching firm of shipbuilders and engineers, affiliated with the Boeing Aircraft Company of Canada, Limited, makers of the monoplane, and Mr. and Mrs. Drury, of Montreal, the former being well known in aviation circles and secretary of Canada Airways, operating air lines in the East and Prairie country.

Before leaving on the return trip to the Mainland, Mr. Drury stated that he had been happily surprised with the scenic beauties revealed from the plane as they flew to Victoria, the approach to the city over the Gulf Islands section being particularly impressive and appealing.

SEEKING CHANGE IN GRAIN RATES

Shipping Conference in San Francisco Discusses Demand of Member to Replace Pound

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23 (AP).—A special meeting of the Pacific Coast-European Shipping Conference, composed of twelve large steamship lines, was called here today, to discuss the demand of a member for a rate on grain and lumber based on the dollar instead of the pound sterling, in view of Great Britain's suspension of the gold standard.

Shipping officials said the rates on grain and lumber were the only ones now based upon the pound sterling. Conference authorities expressed apprehension over the possibility of a restricted movement of grain and lumber, in the event no new agreement should be made.

MAKE THIRD SURVEY OF THE FLOOD AREA

SEMI-FINALS REACHED IN WOMEN'S CITY GOLF

Two English Girls Reach Quarters in U.S. Women's Golf

Enid Wilson and Marjorie Kerr Advance to Last Eight in Championship Tournament—Two Favorites Forced to Extra Holes

BUFFALO COUNTRY CLUB, WILLIAMSVILLE, N.Y., Sept. 23.—Eight of the foremost feminine golfers of the United States and British countries fought their way today into the quarter-finals of the United States women's tournament, with two of the favorites, Helen Hicks, of New York, and Mrs. Leona Pressler, of San Gabriel, Calif., forced into sensational overtime matches to win. Mrs. Charles Eddis, of Toronto, the surviving Canadian, was eliminated today by Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, the defending champion, 4 and 3.

Miss Hicks went to the 19th green before she disposed of Marion Hollins, of Santa Cruz, Calif., former national champion, 1 up, in the day's feature battle. Mrs. Pressler went to the 21st hole to subdue young Fritzi Stifel, of Wheeling, West Virginia State champion, 1 up.

Joining these three victors in the quarter-finals were Enid Wilson, British champion; Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N.J.; Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago; Marjorie Kerr, of England, and Mrs. Leo Federman, of New York City.

EASY VICTORIES

Miss Wilson won from Mrs. L. C. Nelson, of Dayton, Ohio, four and two, and Miss Orcutt disposed of Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wis., five and four.

Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, another of the favorites and a finalist to Mrs. Ware in 1928 and 1930, defeated Frances Williams, of Lehigh, Pa., five and four. Marjorie Kerr won from Jane Brooks, Nyack, N.Y., two and one, and Mrs. Leo Federman, of New York, took the measure of Mrs. Helen Payson Corson, of Philadelphia, two and one.

Mrs. Vare's opponent tomorrow will be Mrs. Federman. Miss Orcutt and Miss Van Wie will be opponents, while Britain's two representatives, Miss Wilson and Miss Kerr, will clash. Mrs. Pressler will oppose Miss Hicks.

MACK MAY USE HOYT IN OPENER

Veteran Ball Chucker's Experience May Gain Him First Assignment

HAS SCORED SIX SERIES VICTORIES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics having snugly put away the American League pennant for the season, followers of the champions are speculating on the opening pitcher for the world series.

There are nine to pick from—Earnshaw, Grove, Hoyt, Krause, McDonald, Mahaffey, Peterson, Rommell and Walberg.

Will the veteran Connie Mack again amaze the baseball world as he did in 1929 when he sent Howard Ehmke to the mound in Chicago to win the first game, 3 to 1?

Many baseball experts think the tall tactician will start either Moses Grove or George Earnshaw, his two outstanding stars, and others have a hunch that he might cross the wise ones by starting a cast-off pitcher.

Waite Hoyt, let go by the New York Yanks and tossed to the Athletics by the Detroit Tigers, has many followers who profess to believe he will be nominated.

GREAT EXPERIENCE

None of Mack's staff has the world's series experience of the former Yankee-Detroit flinger. He has had the thrill of five world's series as a member of the Yankees. He has pitched in eight of the classic games and won six. His last two victories were against the Athletics' coming opponents, defeating the St. Louis Cards, 4 to 1 and 7 to 3, in 1928.

On the strength of the season's performances Grove would have the call, but there is Earnshaw, who was so successful against the Cards last year, to be reckoned with. Walberg has not been seriously considered in the deductions of the fans, yet he has only one less victory for the season than Earnshaw.

Of the 105 games the Athletics have so won this year, Grove, Earnshaw, Walberg and Hoyt are credited, with eighty-one victories. Grove leads with 30, Earnshaw has won 21, and Walberg, 20.

Leroy Mahaffey has won 15; Eddie Rommell, 7, and Hank McDonald, 2.

The competitors in both classes scoring the most points at the end of the season will receive special prizes from the club. Each entrant will get a point, while a first will receive five, a second will get three and a third will receive two points.

JONES, OUIMET BADLY BEATEN

Lose Charity Match by Wide Margin to Burke and Von Elm—Gate Around $10,000

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Sept. 23 (AP).—Bobby Jones and his amateur championship successor, Francis Ouimet, absorbed a drubbing today in a thirty-six-hole charity exhibition golf match with Billy Burke, national open champion, and George Von Elm.

Burke and Von Elm, who have proved themselves just about the toughest pair of shotmakers on the links this season, played brilliant golf to whip the Jones-Ouimet combination, 5 up, over the first eighteen holes, then double their margin in the second round.

It was the first time Jones, since his retirement as the undisputed king of all the golfing worlds, had played two of his successors, Burke and Ouimet, in the same match.

Freberg Victor Over Sarpolis; Anderson Winner

TACOMA, Sept. 23 (AP). — John Freberg, 240-pound Seattle Swede, won from Dr. Karl Sarpolis, Cleveland, in the main event of the wrestling programme here last night, knocking out Sarpolis with a body slam in 2 minutes and 34 seconds of the fourth round. Sarpolis was unable to continue.

Sarpolis gained the first fall with a flying scissors after 1 minute and 44 seconds of the second round. Sarpolis weighed 217 pounds.

Axel Anderson, of Boston, 235 pounds, won from Joe Devito, New York, 212 pounds, with a body slam in 11 seconds of the third round.

Marvin Westenberg, Tacoma, 212 pounder, won from Ernie Bickerton, Toronto, 205 pounds, in the third round of the opener, with an aeroplane spin and body press.

Cards to Split Series' Melon Into 30 Shares

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—The Cardinals, 1931 National League champions, held a meeting and voted to split into thirty equal shares their winnings in the coming world series with Philadelphia Athletics, title winners in the American League.

Each one of the twenty-five players, Manager "Gabby" Street, Secretary Clarence Lloyd, Coach Clyde Wares, Trainer Harrison Waver, and Assistant Trainer Kirby Samuels, will come in for one thirtieth of the team's "take," which will be either 60 or 40 per cent of the competing team's pot from receipts of the first four series games. The team winning the world championship gets the 60 per cent share.

The players also voted $500 to Ground Keeper Bill Stocksieck.

Garrison Badminton Club to Hold Annual Meeting on Saturday

The annual meeting of the Garrison Badminton Club will be held at the Armories at 3 p.m., Saturday. Election of officers will take place and the season's activities discussed. All members are asked to attend. Following the meeting friendly matches will be staged.

British Girl Reaches U.S. Golf Quarters

ENID WILSON

Holder of the British women's championship, who reached the quarter-finals in the United States tournament yesterday. Miss Wilson scored a 4 and 2 over an American opponent. The British girl is expected to offer a great threat for the title now held by Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare.

RUTH FAILS TO FATTEN AVERAGE

Bambino Collects Only One Hit in Three Times in Big Six Batting Race

(Associated Press)

Babe Ruth alone of the Big Six had an opportunity yesterday to fatten his average, but could do no better than one hit in three attempts and his average remained stationary at .372. The Yankee slugger now is assured of second place in the final standing, even if he has a serious slump in the few remaining games.

Al Simmons, of the Athletics, who has hit safely in twelve straight games and boosted his average to .391, is a cinch to lead the American League for the second straight year.

The leaders:

Annual Meeting Of Midweek Loop Carded Tonight

THE annual meeting of the Wednesday Football League will be held this evening at the Ideal Barber Shop, Douglas Street, at 8 o'clock. Election of officers will take place and plans for the season will be discussed. All members of the executive are asked to attend, as several other important items are on the agenda. Delegates from all last year's elevens and any other squads interested are also requested to be present. President Albert Hewison will be in the chair.

ENGLISH XI DOWNS IRISH

Home Side Scores 4-to-Nil Victory in International Soccer Tilt

ENGLISH SKIPPER GETS THREE GOALS

BLACKPOOL, Eng., Sept. 23 (CP).—A team drawn from the English Soccer League defeated an Irish League eleven today by 4 goals to nil. The English team was definitely superior throughout, and the Irish forwards were never given the slightest chance to score.

Gardiner, in the Irish goal, duplicated his fine performance against Scotland last Saturday and made many brilliant saves. J. Hampson, the Blackpool centre forward, whose home ground was used for the match, signalized his selection as English skipper by doing the hat trick. W. E. Houghton, Aston Villa, had England's fourth goal.

The match was played in fine weather, but attracted a crowd of only 15,000 people.

MAX SCHMELING TO MEET WALKER

Heavyweight Champ to Fight Toy Bulldog of Miami in February and Dempsey Next

PARIS, Sept. 23 (AP).—Joe Jacobs, American manager of Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight boxing champion, said today that Schmeling would sail in November for the United States to make an exhibition tour and that he would fight Mickey Walker either in Miami or Los Angeles in February.

Jacobs said Schmeling then would take on Jack Dempsey in June at a place to be picked later.

Jacobs said he was sure Gene Tunney, who retired undefeated in 1927, was returning to the ring and that "we'll accommodate him."

JOKERS TO WORK OUT

Jokers senior soccer team will hold a workout tonight at the Memorial Hall at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to be on hand.

Former Boxer Enters Political Arena

TED "KID" LEWIS

If you are a boxing fan, you will doubtless remember the gentleman above. He is Ted "Kid" Lewis, a former welterweight champion, who is now seeking fresh honors in the field of politics. Lewis joined Sir Oswald Mosley's new party in England and is giving lessons to members so they can protect speakers at campaigning time. He will seek election to Parliament as representative of a London constituency.

PENDRAY'S XI EASY WINNERS

Defeat Peberdy's Side by Wide Margin in Friendly Cricket Encounter

Pendray's XI easily defeated Peberdy's twelve in a friendly cricket match yesterday afternoon at the Beacon Hill pitch. Batting first, Peberdy's side could only score 72 runs against the strong bowling of their opponents, who netted 179 in their innings.

Sparks had a fine average for the winners, taking eight wickets for 32 runs. He also contributed 52 before retiring. Peberdy was high scorer for the losers, hitting out 33.

MRS. BENNETT DOWNS MRS. PARRY AT 20TH AFTER GREAT MATCH

Oak Bay Southpaw Carries Colwood Player Two Extra Holes Before Admitting Defeat in Championship Meet—Mrs. Sayward-Wilson Advances Easily—Helen Wilson Wins

Mrs. Hew Paterson in Victory; Finalists to Be Named Today

Two Colwood and a like number from the Oak Bay club will clash today in the semi-final rounds of the women's city golf championship as a result of the third-round matches played yesterday at the Royal Colwood Golf Club. Mrs. Sayward-Wilson, medalist, and favorite for the crown, continued her fine playing in downing Mrs. Semple, last remaining Uplands representative, by the margin of 6 and 4.

Today's semi-final draw brings together the two surviving Colwood members, Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and Mrs. Bennett, while Mrs. Hew Paterson, veteran campaigner from Oak Bay, will battle it out with Helen Wilson, a clubmate, in the other bracket. Both matches are expected to produce good golf from start to finish. Tomorrow, the 1931 champion will be crowned, with the eighteen-hole final scheduled in the afternoon.

One-sided results featured the first round of the first flight. Mrs. Jackson, Miss Fitzgibbon and Mary Campbell scored easy victories, while Mrs. C. E. Wilson advanced to the next round by default.

GREAT TUSSLE

The Mrs. Bennett-Mrs. Parry match was the outstanding one of the day. Both players threw away several chances for victory during the last leg of the match. Taking advantage of early opportunities, Mrs. Bennett reached the turn holding a two-hole margin over her left-handed Oak Bay opponent.

Playing steady golf, Mrs. Parry sliced Mrs. Bennett's lead as the pair headed down the home stretch by winning the dog-leg tenth. The short eleventh was halved in pars, and Mrs. Parry had a glorious chance to square the match on the twelfth, but missed two putts. Mrs. Bennett increased her lead by capturing the thirteenth, but Mrs. Parry came right back to keep the tussle going by winning the fourteenth.

The Oak Bay ace won the next hole to square the match. The sixteenth and seventeenth were halved, and Mrs. Bennett threw another chance away to end the argument by missing a two-foot putt on the eighteenth green. Mrs. Parry just grazed the cup for victory on the nineteenth. Finding a bunker on the second extra hole cost the Oak Bay player the match, as Mrs. Bennett took advantage of the opportunity and won the hole to end the struggle.

HELEN WILSON WINS

Helen Wilson, young Oak Bay contender and the sensation of the first round matches by her unexpected victory over Mrs. Jackson, continued her bid for the title by defeating Mrs. Lawson, Colwood, one up. It was a great match, with the Oak Bay player holding a slight edge on the last nine to come through.

Mrs. Paterson reached the semis by defeating Mrs. Alan Morkill, a clubmate, 3 and 2, after another interesting affair.

The second rounds of the various other flights will be held today.

Yesterday's results and today's draw follow:

Championship

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson defeated Mrs. Semple, 6 and 4.

Mrs. Bennett defeated Mrs. Parry at the twentieth.

Mrs. Paterson defeated Mrs. A. Morkill, 3 and 2.

Helen Wilson defeated Mrs. Lawson, 1 up.

First Flight

Mrs. Jackson defeated Mrs. W. H. Squire, 6 and 5.

Miss Fitzgibbon defeated Joan Hutchinson, 4 and 3.

Mary Campbell defeated Mrs. Driscoll, 6 and 5.

TODAY'S DRAW

Championship

1:00—Mrs. Sayward-Wilson vs. Mrs. Bennett.

1:05—Mrs. Paterson vs. Helen Wilson.

First Flight

1:10—Mrs. Jackson vs. Miss Fitzgibbon.

1:15—Mrs. C. E. Wilson vs. Mary Campbell.

SCHAAF WINS DECISION IN CLOSE FIGHT

Awarded Verdict Over Tuffy Griffiths in Ten Rounds of Mixing

CROWD IN UPROAR OVER DECISION

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP).—Ernie Schaaf, new sensation of the heavyweight ranks, with eight straight knockout victories to his credit, was no killer tonight in his ten-round battle with Tuffy Griffiths, opening the indoor boxing season in the Chicago Stadium.

Schaaf, instead of continuing his string of knockout victories, was lucky to win a close decision, which was greeted with howls of disapproval from the crowd of 14,000 spectators. Griffiths, outweighed twenty-one pounds, outmatched in height and reach, fought a surprisingly courageous battle, at times outmanoeuvring, outslugging and outboxing the big blonde German from Boston.

The verdict of the two judges and Referee Eddie Purdy, which was unanimous, was nevertheless greeted with roaring demonstrations of disapproval. The booing and yelling continued for fifteen minutes, and into the early rounds of the semi-windup.

The general impression was that Schaaf had a shade in four rounds, at least the judges thought so. Griffiths won the third and fifth, and the others might have been called even.

Schaaf, towering a head taller than Griffiths, scaled 208 pounds to 187 for his foe.

The 14,000 spectators paid approximately $41,000.

Women's long driving—1, Miss Diana Fraser; 2, Mrs. W. T. Sisson.

Men's long driving—1, W. T. Sisson.

Women's approaching and putting—1, Miss Diana Fraser; 2, Mrs. G. Pownall; 3, Mrs. W. T. Sisson.

The second and third prizes in the women's competitions were donated by Mrs. J. McIlraith.

OLD-TIME TRACK STAR PASSES AWAY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Frederick John Mitchell, aged fifty-six, former prominent amateur and professional sprinter and track official in Ontario, Alberta and this province, died here yesterday. He had resided in Vancouver for seven years.

Mr. Mitchell, who was born in Workworth, Ont., resided in Moose Jaw for several years before first coming to British Columbia. Later he moved to Port William, where he supervised the training of his son, Lyall, who later made a name for himself in Canadian track circles.

Besides his son, Lyall, who now resides at Vallejo, Calif., he is survived by his wife and three other sons, Fernie and Cecil, of San Mateo, Calif.; and Alvin, at home.

The Foul Bay Playing Fields Association has called a meeting for Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Hollywood Mission Hall. The object of the meeting is to form a permanent executive.

"What are the young man's intentions?"

V.A.C. Gridders Snow Meralomas Under, 21-6

Last Year's Big Four Champions Handed Decisive Defeat in Opening Clash by Heavy Vancouver Athletic Club Aggregation

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—Norman Burley's revamped V.A.C. gridiron warriors outscored the champion Meralomas, 21-6, in a hard-fought opening "Big Four" Canadian Rugby engagement before twenty-five hundred enthusiasts, under the floodlights at Athletic Park tonight.

But the score tells little of the tough fight that the Kitsilano lads put up. The Vacs deserved their victory. They showed a stouter line and a shifty backfield that took plenty of chances and made good.

But they did not deserve the verdict by more than one touchdown. They scored four of them and practically every one of them came after some misplay in the backfield of the orange-shirted squad.

There were plenty of mistakes. That was to be expected for the opening fray. But there were numerous forward passes, some pretty kicking, some fast end runs and some hard line charging.

Vacs possessed the stronger line. Twice they held when Meralomas carried the ball within a yard or so of their line. It was in this department the victors had the edge.

BOB ELLIS SHINES

The first half ended 10-0 for the Vacs, but Meralomas were well worth at least one touchdown in the second quarter when Bob Ellis, the Moose Jaw boy, opened up a bag of tricks and made some wonderful gains through brilliant open field running. Meralomas got a tough break when Don Stewart went over, but the touchdown was disallowed owing to Leroy, of English Rugby fame, taking part in some running interference, and the ball was brought back.

Cokie Shields played one of his best games. He ran the ball back for big gains and kicked faultlessly. Eric Cameron, playing his first Canadian game, did most of the kicking for the losers, and made a good job of it. He had one tough break when he dropped a catch behind his own line and it cost a touchdown, but otherwise made good at the new code. Len Leroy also shone brightly at times and should improve.

DR. SARPOLIS TO GRAPPLE JOE DEVITO

Popular Heavy to Appear in Local Ring in Main Event Saturday Night

ROCKY BROOKS WILL WRESTLE H. RUMBERG

After an absence of several months, Dr. Karl Sarpolis, former Cleveland physician and now a resident of Seattle, will make his appearance in a local ring Saturday evening when he takes on Joe Devito, New York heavyweight, in the eight ten-minute round main event at the Tillicum gymnasium. Again the local promoter has given the semi-wind-up attraction to Rocky Brooks, Victoria's popular grappler. The local lad will try conclusions with Harold Rumberg, who hails from Washington State. The opening bout will get under way at 8:45 o'clock with two local youngsters displaying their wares.

Sarpolis is one of the finest wrestlers ever to appear at the local gym. He made himself popular with the fans from the start, and his return to the Capital City is expected to attract a good house. Since his last showing here, the former Cleveland physician has toured California, meeting the best in the South.

Three times he has stepped in the ring against Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's champion. Although unable to gain a victory, Sarpolis gave the headlock expert plenty of trouble before admitting defeat.

In Devito, the grappling doctor will find a tough opponent. The New Yorker is highly rated throughout the Northwest, having appeared in several main events since his arrival. Before coming West, Devito showed in main events in New York, Boston and Chicago.

SWIMMING GROUP WILL BE FORMED

Victoria is to have a regular swimming programme for the coming season, it was decided by representatives from the city's four affiliated swimming clubs, when they met last night at the Y.M.C.A.

The group's object will be to help swimmers contemplating entering trials for the Olympic games, to be held in Los Angeles next Summer, and to create competitions for a larger number of swimmers who enter only for the pleasure and exercise afforded by this popular sport. Those elected to carry on this work are: Petty Officer J. McArthur, of the Navy Club; Bob Shade, representing the V.A.S.C., and Allen Stewart and Bill (Torchy) Peden, of the Y.M.C.A. and Crystal Garden teams, respectively. This group will draw up the programme for a gala, to be held in the near future.

TIM MATSON

Dear Doctor,

I am about to begin on your prescription for Melancholia—dose every fifteen minutes—and am herewith itemizing (as you ordered) exact reactions after each dose.

Dose has now passed through my diaphragm and is, I imagine, settling in the upper abdomen.

Thirteen minutes have passed. Nothing noticeable, yet—in fact, I'm beginning to think—well, perhaps I feel a comfortable warmness—nothing tangible but nevertheless, er, soothing—I might almost say pleasant. Yes, as the fifteen minutes are up, I think I'd better take the second dose.

Twelve minutes have passed. Feeling quite brusque—better, in fact, than I've felt for years! Maybe I'll go for a walk! No, I think I'd prefer a musical comedy! By jove, that's a beautiful geranium in the window-box! How delightful I feel! Gad, I WILL go to that musical comedy! Dammit, Doctor, I'm going to sing!! Huzzah! Time for the next dose!

Ten minutes flown! Feel perf'cly priceless! Melancholia gone to pot! Ta-ra-ra-boom-dy-aye! Jove, Doctor, that med'cin's magnifishent—feeling shplendid—don't undershtand it—hello, s'm'body's knocking! C'min. Ha, ha, itz je maid (hic); pre'y lil shing (hic)—never notished it b'hic'fore. C'mere, lil girl—have shum meddishun—have losh uv medshun—lesh boshe have losh uv me'shen—lesh all shing—lesh go pay callsh on Bishipp—shour duty to—lesh make whoop, whop, hic, lesh hic, hic.

Sh'long, Doct'r, $$@, mush 'blijed, "7!&—(XXZZ,
))((!? SHORGE $$$@XZ@$$.

Dear George,

I'm delighted my prescription worked so well. If you feel slightly depressed, with a possible headache, tomorrow—er, don't worry, just trot along to me and I'll refill the bottle.

Business has been rather slack lately, and, er, I'm hoping that on the strength of your, shall we say, "unprecedented cure," that you will not be backward in, shall we say, "discreetly broadcasting" the "good news"?

I mean to say, George—the Medical Profession is not what it used to be—times are bad, George—damn bad! Melancholia is becoming more prevalent daily. I will use only the best "ingredients"—and my price will be 50c per dose, including lemons, etc., and use of piano!

Yours hopsfully,

DOCTOR DICK.

VICTORIAN TO PLAY IN GOLF MEET

Mrs. C. F. Armstrong Enters in Canadian Women's Tourney

STRONG FIELD WILL SEEK CHAMPIONSHIP

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—With a strong international field competing, the Canadian ladies' open golf tournament this year promises to be one of the outstanding events of the Canadian golf calendar.

Prominent among the entrants who will tee up for the 18-hole qualifying round over the Rosedale course here Monday are Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, now defending her title as women's open champion of the United States; Miss Enid Wilson, British women's open champion, and Miss Maureen Orcutt, White Beaches Golf Club, New Jersey, the present Canadian titleholder.

A total of ninety-four players from the United States and Canada have already entered for the tournament. Post entries are expected to swell the total. Mrs. Vare has not yet sent in her formal entry, but she announced some time ago she intended to compete.

There will be no lack of Canadian stars who will strive to win back the title for Canada. Miss Margery Kirkham, of Lachine, Que., Canadian closed champion; Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, many times champion; Miss Cecil and Miss Maude Smith, Toronto; Mrs. Charles E. Eddis, Toronto; Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, Victoria, and Mrs. Gordon Konantz, Winnipeg, are listed as starters.

EX-CADDY WINS OPEN GOLF MEET

Charley MacAndrew Heads Johnny Farrell by Stroke in New England Tourney

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 23 (AP).—Little Charley MacAndrew, of Quincy, today won his first major golf victory, the New England open championship of 72 holes on the wind-swept Wollaston course where he learned the game as a caddy. This home-bred closed with a 69, four under par for a grand total of 289, just a stroke below Johnny Farrell, of Mamaroneck, N.Y.

Densmore Shute, of Hudson, Ohio, runner-up to Tom Creavy in last week's P.G.A. championship at Providence, snared a 69 on his last trip which swept him into third money of $200, with a 292.

Bobby Cruickshank, of Purchase, N.Y., finished fourth, with 295, and was rewarded with $175 prize money.

Henry Cuici, Stratford, Conn., won the $150 fifth prize, with 297. Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N.J., and Gene Sarazen, Great Neck, L.I., finished in a sixth place tie, with 298, and divided $225.

NANAIMO BOWLING

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—On the local bowling alleys last evening in the City League the Eagles took three games from the Imperials. L. Booth for the Eagles was high scorer, with 203, and high average with 174.

In the Commercial League the W. F. S. took two out of three games from Philpott's Cafe. T. Dixon, of the W. F. S., was high scorer, with 353, and high average with 268. This is the highest score rolled on the alleys this season. In the same league Shell Oil took two out of three games from the Eagles. J. Quinn, of the Eagles, had high score with 232, and high average with 196.

RECONSTRUCTING FERRY

HAZELTON.—Work is in progress on the new deck for the Hazelton ferry, which got away last Spring and went down the river on its own. The pontoons were salvaged and shipped back from Pacific and the timber for the new deck has now arrived.

FRED PERRY AND HUGHES ELIMINATED

British Doubles Team Defeated in Three-Set Match in South

COLLEGE YOUTH OUSTS ALLISON

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 23.—George Hughes and Fred Perry, English Davis Cup stars, were eliminated from further competition in the Pacific Southwest tennis doubles championships today by Lester Stoefen and Jack Tidball, Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. The British aces put up a great fight, but Stoefen, nineteen-year-old college player and a more or less unknown, outdid himself to set the English combination back.

Stoefen first surprised the gallery by downing Wilmer Allison, seeded No. 8, 6-2, 7-5.

George Lott, Philadelphia, and Sidney Wood, New York, teamed to defeat Gregory Mangin, Newark, N.J., and Berkeley Bell, Texas.

Miss Dorothy Workman, Del Monte, Cal., eliminated Miss Elizabeth Dieke, Pasadena, No. 6 in the women's seedings, 9-7, 6-3, in the third round, while Miss Peggy Henry, Los Angeles, triumphed over May Doeg, Santa Monica, of the famous Doeg-Bundy tennis family, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, in the third round, junior girls' singles.

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, and Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, had a stiff battle before downing fifteen-year-old Gene Mako, Glendale, national boys' champion, and Gerald Bartosh, Los Angeles, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Trumbull Says:

Big Shots Show Real Class When Under Heaviest Fire

Grove and Earnshaw Will Be Cards' Worries in Series

Mack Says Lefty Greatest Southpaw Baseball Has Ever Known

By WALTER TRUMBULL

(Copyright, 1931, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

You see a player with a tail-end team and you say "Gosh! What that fellow could do with a winner!"

Well, maybe he could, and then again maybe he couldn't. It is a funny thing about that. Sometimes a player looks like a diamond with a loser and like a rhinestone with a winner.

Pitching or batting or fielding for one team, they know they have nothing to lose. They can take any chance and, if they muff it, they at least get credit for a good try. Everyone is tolerant and out to encourage them.

But put them with a contender and the pressure is on. Here their good stuff is not regarded as anything miraculous. They are supposed to have the stuff. And nobody is tolerant of their mistakes. They are running with stake horses, and it is easier to look good against selling platers.

The contestant with the real class, of course, comes on. The tougher the opposition, the better he likes the going. This type can carry weight and still come through.

Men and horses are not so different in some things. Some are big shots from the popgun; large toads in little puddles; born minor leaguers. Others have the quality known as class. They are the big timers, the performers who need no alibi.

For a single season the greatest southpaw in baseball history was Ferdie Schupp. In his big year he was almost unhitable.

Now, Connie Mack says that Grove is the greatest of them all. Mack has had a look at all of them. He should know. Besides which, Grove has amassed a record which does its own talking.

Grove and Earnshaw are the answers to the world's series. If the St. Louis cards can beat these two, they don't have to worry about anything else. But it may be quite a job.

This is most encouraging to those of us in the duffer class. If the pride of Atlanta gets any worse, we doubt whether he can give us more than two strokes a hole; certainly not if he will permit us to concede four-foot putts.

That it is to say, we will concede him all putts of four feet and under, if he will do the same for us. We'd even be willing to make it four yards. But we would like better still to make an arrangement on niblick shots.

Vines, at nineteen, has won a national tennis championship.

Creavy, at nineteen, has won a professional golf championship.

Oh, well, never too old to learn!

Dr. Alexander Alekhine has just won another chess tournament. The champion showed a lot of headwork and great stamina.

And the chances are that he could turn the board over and play a great game of backgammon.

Everyone is glad to hear that Melvin Ott was not seriously injured by the fast ball, thrown by Grimes, which hit him in the head in St. Louis. The New York outfielder is a fine and popular ball player.

Yet it would seem that the Athletics are not as tough as once they were. Frank Chance was on one occasion knocked senseless for three minutes by being beaned. This was in Pittsburgh. When they finally brought Chance back to consciousness, he arose and made a two-base hit.

As for Kid Gleason, any time he was hit on the head it was the opposing pitcher who did the complaining. They weren't as free with new baseballs in those days, and the pitcher would complain that the horsehide was out of shape. The Kid was a smart ball player; but in those days they were also built for durability.

Freighting Coal to Maritime Provinces

HALIFAX, Sept. 23.—A Norwegian motor freighter is en route to Halifax with a cargo of Chinese anthracite for sale to householders of this province and New Brunswick.

The cargo consists of 4,000 tons of coal mined in the Province of Tonkin, French Indo-China. It has been imported into Western Canada before, but records indicate this will be the first shipment to be distributed in the Maritime Provinces.

New York Sugar

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP).—Raw sugar was quiet early today. Sales were confirmed, as of yesterday, of 28,000 bags of Cuban from store at Philadelphia at 3.37, the buyer paying the cartage; 5,600 bags of Cuban, afloat, at 3.38, and 25,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment at 3.40. A further buying interest at the 3.40 level was reported, with holders asking fractionally higher.

Refined sugar was unchanged at 4.55 for fine granulated, with a fair inquiry reported, but still limited to nearby requirements.

TIE MILLS TO OPERATE

CRANBROOK—This week sees the closing of the main sawmill operated by the C.P.R. at Canal Flat, the season's cut having been completed. However, the company expects to operate some seven small tie mills during the Fall and Winter, and each of these will give employment to from twenty to twenty-five men. Men with families and older employees there will be pretty well provided for.

Chance Governs the General Trend of Too Many Lives

By chance many of us live in a certain house, on a certain street; work along certain lines, not really contented, but too indolent to change. DON'T BE ONE OF THESE. If you've outgrown your present home, or it is too large for you, someone else may find it perfection.

We have had numerous transactions of this kind in our office and at this writing a few very tempting exchanges are among our listings. It will be a pleasure to assist you.

SELLS INTEREST IN WHOLESALE GROCERY

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—On October 1, George S. Pearson, who has been managing director of the Malkin-Pearson Co., Ltd., on Prideaux Street, since 1917, when his firm established at Nanaimo the first wholesale grocery house to operate on Vancouver Island north of Victoria, will resign and dispose of his interest to his associates, W. H. Malkin Co., Ltd., Vancouver. He will be succeeded in the management by Jack Dudley, who has been associated with the firm for more than twelve years.

JOINS TEACHING STAFF

DUNCAN, Sept. 23.—Miss Gladys Nelson, of Victoria, has joined the teaching staff of the Duncan public school. The trustees were notified by the Education Department some time ago that they were overstaffed and must cut down the number of their teachers to the quota established by the Legislature at the commencement of the September term. The trustees made a strong plea to the department for permission to engage an extra teacher, and their request has now been complied with.

China now has fifty-five talkie theatres.

WHEAT PRICES DROP SHARPLY

Unloading by Country Elevators Sends Values Down Suddenly

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 (CP).—Evidently thinking that the higher opening prices, coupled with the last night's advance, was a good opportunity, country elevators unloaded a considerable part of their holdings on the market today which resulted in grains declining sharply, closing quotations being 1 to 1 1-8 lower than yesterday's final.

Little overnight export business was reported, which probably was another inducement for the market to relinquish part of its recent advances. October, closing at 54 1-4, was down 1 cent; November, newly on the board, closed at 54 7-8; May's final was 58 1-2, down 3-4 to 7-8, and December at 54 5-8 to 54 3-4, dropped the largest amount, 1 1-8.

Broomhall, reporting warmer weather in the Argentine, stated a general rain was required to bring a return to normal conditions. Russian reports indicated seeding of winter wheat was 43 per cent completed, and that collection of harvested grain had not come up to expectations.

Cash grain was more lively, but coarse grains continued dull.

Security Prices Gain Rapidly at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The bug of optimism finally nibbled at the security markets today and they jumped with startling swiftness.

Wage cuts, already announced and reports of others likely to follow, suggested to Wall Street that perhaps such steps, however unfortunate they may be for those immediately affected, were nevertheless necessary to complete deflation. Remembering that such steps coincided with the turn in the bear market of 1920-21, traders quickly climbed aboard the buying side of the market band wagon, giving stocks their best rally since June 20, and bonds their largest gain of the year.

Railroad shares got the cream of the rally, rising 2 to 15 points net and closing at the top. Industrials and utilities were a little behind this fast pace, up roughly 2 to 6 at the finish. The average advance was 5.7 points, and the turnover 2,908,595 shares.

RAILS LEAD ADVANCE

Feature rails included Norfolk & Western, up 15; Union Pacific, 14 3-4; Atchison, 10 1-4; Delaware & Hudson, 12; New York Central, New Haven and Southern Pacific about 8; Reading, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, 4 to 5 5-8.

Utilities got staunch leadership from American Telephone, which soared 7 1-4, closing 5 3-4 higher. U.S. Steel, at one time, was more than 4 points to the good and held 3 1-4 of the rally.

Woolworth was particularly strong, up 6. There was a similar gain for Allied Chemical. General Electric, National Biscuit, Case, American Can, Radio, Bethlehem and Westinghouse ranged 2 to 4 above the previous close.

STERLING IS STEADIER

Sterling exchange had its steadiest day since the suspension of the gold standard, fluctuating between $4.09 to $4.15 for cable transfers. The last quotations posted was $4.11, or a net loss of 8 cents compared with a 23-cent drop on Tuesday.

The bond market advanced in spectacular fashion today.

Sales on the Stock Exchange aggregated $17,077,000, the largest total for a full session since October 10, 1930, when the turnover amounted to $19,660,000. The average price for sixty representative issues composed of equal numbers of rail, public utility and industrial obligations was 86.9. A net gain of 1.7 points, the largest advance in one day this year.

The gain for the average price of twenty rail issues was 3.2 points.

SILVER PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Speculative Interest Greatly Stimulated by Lapse From Gold Standard

Bar silver at New York was quoted at 29 1-2 cents an ounce, up 7-8 of a cent from yesterday's final level, the highest since July 3, and 2 cents under the year's high. It was 4 5-16 cents above the bottom level touched in February.

Silver has far to go to reach what would be regarded as a satisfactory level. Some authorities have spoken of stabilizing it at 50 cents an ounce, around which it has averaged for the past several years, save during the postwar inflation, when it sold as high as 132 cents.

Today's advance in the metal more than cancelled yesterday's reaction of 5-8 of a cent, which followed a gain of 1 1-2 cents Monday.

SPECULATIVE INTEREST

Speculative interest in silver has received marked impetus from the British lapse from the gold standard. Bankers and traders in Wall Street are still highly uncertain as to how the British situation may eventually affect this metal.

While other countries may also be carried off the gold standard by England, bankers say there is little likelihood that any country will embrace silver as a monetary standard, although India may conceivably return to it.

C.N.R. EARNINGS

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending September 21, 1931, were $3,832,248, as compared with $5,009,672 for the same period in 1930, a decrease of $1,177,424.

GOLD STOCKS LEAD ADVANCE

Vancouver Market Shows Decided Firmness With Increased Trading

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Following the favorable trend of Eastern markets, stocks on the Vancouver Stock Exchange showed a decided firmness today. Gold issues led the advance in price gains. Although the big board showed a slight decrease over yesterday's session in sales volume, unlisted issues doubled the previous session's volume. Total sales were 17,587 shares, and 35,500 on the curb.

Premier Gold, opening 3 cents higher at 45 cents, jumped in the late trading to 54 cents, up 12 cents, at which price it closed. Pioneer gold advanced 5 cents to close at 2.30. Grandview was up fractionally at 4 1-2. Lorne Gold again showed activity and gained a fraction at 8 3-4 cents. Pend Oreille at 64 cents chalked up a 4 cent gain, and Porter Idaho was up a fraction at 5 cents.

Utilities and industrials also showed the result of favorable market news, Canadian Pacific climbing back to close at 18.00, while International Nickel advanced 1:30 to close at 10.30.

Oils were apathetic with no changes in price levels.

Interlisted Issues Make Good Gains on Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, Sept. 23. — Interlisted issues on the Montreal Stock Exchange on which trading restrictions were removed yesterday, found encouragement in New York's upward trend and moved into higher ground today with substantial gains. The majority of stocks, still under the restriction ruling, closed unchanged.

Brazilian Traction, active leader, opened at 10 and gradually forged higher to close at 11. Canadian Pacific, with the strong tone of the rails in New York as a background, gained 1 3-8 at .18. International Nickel rose 1 1-8 at 10 3-8. Canada Cement and Winnipeg Electric, though not interlisted, were both strong, Cement gaining 1 1-2 at 6 1-2 and Winnipeg being up 1 1-8 at 6 1-4. These were the only gains.

B.C. Power continued its decline of yesterday, losing a point at 26. Canada Wire & Cable "B" dropped 1-4 at 20 3-4 and General Steel Wares was off 1-8 at 1 3-4.

In the bond section, where there was no trading restrictions, five Government issues touched new low levels for the year.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—Responding to buoyancy on the world's markets today, prices swung sharply upwards on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The upturn occurred with the reopening of the London Stock Exchange and certain other European bourses, the lifting of the ban on short selling in New York and the partial lifting of restrictions in other markets throughout the world, including Canada.

Before the local exchange opened the directors announced that four more issues had been added to the list of eleven in which free trading was already permissible. The additions were Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, British American Oil and International Utilities "A" and "B" issues. As Bell Telephone went ex-dividend the rule regarding minimum prices was relaxed. The issue fell 2 points to 121, and reacted to close unchanged at 123.

Walker fell to a new low of 3 1-2, but closed unchanged at 4. British-American closed off 3-8 at 10 1-4. Brazilian Traction gained 1 7-8 to close at 11. Canadian Pacific, following extraordinary strength of rails in New York, gained a full point to close at 17 1-2. Ford of Canada gained 3-4 to 14 1-2. International Nickel gained 1 to 10 1-4.

Other price changes through the list included Shawinigan, off 1-2 to a new low of 32 1-2; Imperial Oil, up 7-8 to 11, and International Pete, up 1 to close at 10. Steel of Canada gained 1-4 to 22. Dominion Bridge was off 3 to a new low of 27.

Total sales were 21,244 shares.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP).—While the majority of stocks on the Standard Mining Exchange that have been pegged by the minimum price ruling closed unchanged today, the interlisted issues in most instances swung sharply upward. Buying was more pronounced. Total sales ran to 168,594 shares.

International Nickel and Noranda were the only active issues in the base metal list. Noranda developed strength from the favorable official report published recently and jumped 75c to close at $15.35. Nickel advanced 75c to close at $10.

The golds showed mixed price action. Dome, under steady accumulation, moved up 75c to $10.75. Lake Shore advanced 10c to $26.50, while McIntyre fell 10c to $19.25 after making a new low at $19.

Active trading featured the higher-priced oil issues. International Petroleum advanced $1.05 to $9.95; Imperial advanced 50c to $10.60, while British-American fell 40c to $9.50.

PRODUCE MARKET

Following is the market news letter issued yesterday by the markets branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture:

VERNON

The damage done to unpicked tree fruits by the storm on Sunday is estimated at from 4 to 5 per cent loss. The storm centre extended from Kaleden to Summerland, but Glenmore and Kelowna areas also took considerable loss. The rain and wind of Sunday were followed by frost Monday night. Ninety-nine cars of produce rolled on Monday and sixty-seven yesterday. Distribution of MacIntosh Red apples throughout the four Western Provinces is in full progress. In two days twenty-two cars of apples and pears have gone forward to Ontario and Quebec. The bulk apple shipments to date are 159 cars.

SASKATOON

It has rained daily here for the past ten days, bringing harvest operations to a complete standstill. The director of markets for British Columbia visited the trade here on Monday. The bulk apple movement is slow with prices ranging from 2 to 2½ cents per pound. Most of the semi-ripe tomatoes are arriving too green and showing indications of chill, with the result of heavy shrinkage before fit for use. A car of Wenatchee prunes is expected this week. Another mixed Ontario car is due tomorrow containing Bartlett pears, both in boxes and baskets, and plums, etc. Receipts from Ontario have been very good so far this season.

TORONTO

Wholesale markets: Crawford peaches, six quarts, 20 to 35 cents. Plums, Reineclaude and greengage, sixes, 25 cents. Prunes, sixes, 40 to 50 cents. Apples, Wealthies, per bushel, No. 1, $1.25; domestic, $1.00. Crab apples, Hyslop, eleven quarts, 35 cents. Peppers, green, elevens, 25 cents; reds, 40 cents. Cauliflower, 50 to 75 cents per dozen. Cabbage, 40 cents per dozen. Potatoes, ninety-pound bag, 50 cents. Onions, 100 pounds, No. 1, $1.75; Silverskins, eleven quarts, 40 cents. Weather still unseasonably warm and market loaded with all local fruits and vegetables.

How It Started By Jean Newton

"AMEN"

Here is probably one of the oldest words in our lexicon, harking back even further than the Biblical era to the days when Sanscrit was a spoken language.

Directly, however, we get the word from the Hebrew, which took it bodily from the Sanscrit or the Greek, which derives it from the Sanscrit, and with its identical meaning.

Because the word signified "truth" the Hebrews used it at the end of prayers as an affirmation of the truth of what was said.

This usage has prevailed to this very day in prayers of all denominations; but the word "Amen" has taken on the added meaning of "So may it be," "So be it."

The board of examiners were discussing the papers of the examinees, and had before them the answers of a student from Ceylon.

"Look here," said one of the examiners, "he actually spells 'proceed' with one 'e.'"

A member of the board who knew the student replied: 'Oh, well, after all he comes from the land of the single e's."

VICTORIA GIRL ACHIEVES FAME

Ethel Codd Luening, Who Sings Here Saturday, Had Uninterrupted Success

Many Victorians are greatly interested in Ethel Codd Luening, who is appearing in recital here on Saturday evening.

As a girl Ethel Codd lived in Victoria with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Codd, both of whom were well known Canadian singers, and a sister and two brothers.

She often went to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church to hear her mother and father, who were soloists of the choir, and she dreamed of the time when she, too, would be a singer. As a child of nine her voice was unusual, and her mother told her then that she might become a really great artist. A few months later Mrs. Codd passed away, and with the death of her husband the following year, the four children were left alone in the world, but each was imbued with the desire to fulfill the wish of their parents and become a singer of distinction.

TALENTED CHILDREN

Francis, the eldest, is at present making a name for himself in radio. He sings under the name of Lawrence Burke on the Sears-Roebuck broadcasts from Philadelphia each morning at 8:15 over WCAU, and is one of the few vocalists who have acquired what is known as perfect microphone technique.

Arthur, the other son, is a scholarship student in the opera department of the Eastman School of Music. He, too, has a fine tenor voice, and promises to become a most artistic singer.

Margaret, the youngest, is a protege of Madame Marcella Sembrich, and is associated with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company. Her voice is unusually brilliant, and the most difficult coloratura passages are easily mastered by her.

MUSICAL FOUNDATION

Ethel was fortunate in having had opportunity to study music from an early age. Her aunt, with whom she lived, realizing her musical inclinations, enabled her to take violin and piano lessons for several years. These lessons gave her a musical foundation which made it possible for her to win a first place in the Saskatchewan Musical Festival as soprano in class "A," despite the fact that she had studied voice only a few months, and was but seventeen years of age.

At nineteen, she had been earning her living as a stenographer for two years, but always longed to sing; and when the Brandon Opera Co. came to Saskatoon, where she was employed at the time, she joined the company as a chorus girl, and in a few weeks she was singing the leading role in the "Pirates of Penzance," of Gilbert and Sullivan, in Vancouver, and creating a furore by filling the Orpheum Theatre to capacity each night. The prima donna had become ill, and Ethel Codd had secretly learned several of her roles.

At this time Vladimir Rosing, the Russian tenor, who was holding master classes in Vancouver, heard the young singer, and offered her a scholarship to study at the Eastman School of Music, in Rochester, N.Y. She eagerly accepted this opportunitw for further study, and in two years made her debut as Constanza in Mozart's "The Abduction From the Seraglio," at the Guild Theatre in New York, winning highly favorable comment from the public and press by her singing on this occasion.

HAS RARE VOICE

R. L. Stokes, of The New York Evening World, said: "Miss Codd is a coloratura soprano whose voice has the rare merit of becoming more musical and vivid the higher it mounts." Immediately after her New York triumph, she married Otto Luening, one of the conductors of The American Opera Company, and shortly after their marriage they left for Europe, where they gave several successful concerts together, the critic of The Cologne Stadt Anzeiger praising her highly.

In 1929, Ethel Luening and her husband returned to New York. She immediately entered into a most active life, singing in concert, opera and radio, under the management of The National Music Company of New York, culminating with her transcontinental tour in 1931.

Otto and Ethel Luening are coming to Victoria directly from Banff, where they were active in the Scottish Festival, and appeared several times before Their Majesties the King and Queen of Siam.

Mr. Luening will accompany his wife at the piano, and play several flute obbligatos.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

PUBLIC AWAITS NEW ATWATER KENT RADIOS

1932 Models Represent Greatest Value in History

Dealers are being deluged with inquiries regarding the new 1932 Atwater Kent radios. It is expected that the new models will be placed on display in prominent music stores within a few days.

The new Atwater Kent golden value models are considered to be the finest radio, from the standpoint of value, quality and performance that have ever been produced.

The world trusts Atwater Kent radio and exhaustive experiments and tests were conducted before the new sets were permitted to be released to the public.

The new season's offerings of the famous Atwater Kent laboratories bring with them the greatest values in the firm's history. There are nine models in the new range which will give a wide selection to satisfy every purse and preference. Every one is a magnificent superheterodyne, with all the most advanced refinements and improvements. New cabinet designs of arresting beauty and grace are finished in genuine No-Mar. A touch of the finger will bring up the glorious golden tone from deep to brilliant, without distortion. This is made possible by the automatic volume control, which is an important feature of the new sets.

It will be necessary to see and hear these marvelous new radios to fully appreciate them. Taken in all, it is small wonder that the Atwater Kent golden value range of radios are being eagerly awaited. (Advt.)
